Section 8 Any person firm or corporation purchasing a "Public Utility" under the provisions of this act shall in all respects be subject to the provisions of The Public Service Company Law approved the twenty-sixth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirteen (Pamphlet Laws one thousand three hundred and seventy-four) and its amendments or supplements

Section 9 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are repealed

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, this bill relates to utilities which are owned by any municipality. In almost all cases public utilities owned by municipalities are built and financed by means of bond issues which must be authorized by a vote of the people under the Constitution and under the Act of 1874. As the law now exists any town council or city council may sell its utilities and convey them to a private person or privaate corporation without any reference to the people at all. I have known of instances where the municipal authorities were very anxious to submit the question to the people for a vote, but there is no act of assembly authorizing them so to do. It seems to me that inasmuch as a vote of the people is required to create these utilities it is only fair and good business policy that the people should be consulted before they are sold.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Section 4 The pension allowed shall be one-half of the salary received for the two years previous to their retirement Provided however the pension shall not exceed on hundred dollars per month

Section 5 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are repealed

On the question.

Shall the bill pass finally?

VOTE RECONSIDERED.

Mr. GEARY. Mr. Speaker. I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. MURDOCH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. GEARY. Mr. Speaker. I ask unanimous consent to insert amendments to this bill at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend title in line one by striking out the words "and third."

Amend section 1, in line 4, by striking out the words "And third."

Amend section 2, in line 2, by striking out the words "and third."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered. That the bill lie over for printing.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1424, entitled:

An Act authorizing Christian Gerz administrator of the estate of Alexander Gerz late of the City of Lancaster County of Lancaster deceased to sue the Commonwealth

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1331, entitled:

An Act regulating the keeping of bees and providing a penalty

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I think the sponsor of this bill should explain its provisions.

Mr. GIBSON. Mr. Speaker, I think the bill explains itself. Personally, I have no trouble with bees but one of my constituents has had a pretty severe spring and he wrote me sometime ago in regard to this matter and I will just give you a few extracts from his letter. "I think a person keeping honey bees should not be permitted to keep them close to a line fence. There should be a law that no person shall have honey bees within fifteen rods of a line fence. I have a person as a neighbor who is keeping bees and I lost a valuable horse through bees stinging him. There should be a fine and imprisonment and a law should be passed and no one should be permitted to disobey this law."

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1002, entitled:

An Act relating to domestic animals and their destruction to prevent spread of disease and the compensation therefor

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOLLINGSWORTH. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, it may be from the type of this bill that the members will not understand just what the object of the bill is, and in order that all may understand I would say that this bill is intended to compensate persons for cattle killed for the foot and mouth disease at their appraised value instead of two-thirds of the appraised value as provided for in the present law. The present law provides that cattle killed for contagious diseases shall be paid for at two-thirds of their appraised value, and that value is not to exceed forty dollars for common and graded cattle, and seventy dollars for a pure bred animal. Now you all know that common and graded cattle are usually worth a great deal more than that, and that a pure bred animal is worth considerably more, and it works a great hardship on a man to have cattle that he has taken a lifetime to raise killed for the foot and mouth disease. The foot and mouth disease is different from other contagious diseases inasmuch as when one animal becomes infected the State requires that you kill the whole herd, no matter whether they are diseased or not. In other diseases you are only required to kill those that are diseased. A person having to kill only one animal has not so very much loss even if he does not get much compensation. But where he has a herd of high grade cattle worth considerable money and one animal becomes infected with this disease it means an enormous loss to him and in many cases would almost break a man up. In order to get this in the form that it should be I have fixed this bill excepting cattle killed for foot and mouth disease out of the regular law and make a separate law to provide for that disease alone. Now, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I hope you will vote for this bill and do justice to the persons who have had great losses of cattle on account of the foot and mouth disease.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Mr. RONEY offered the following concurrent resolution, which was read and laid over for printing:

In the House of Representatives, April 1915.

Whereas, at No. 275 of June Term, 1910, the Court of Common Pleas of Beaver county in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, did, on the suggestion of the Commonwealth at the relation of the then Attorney General, Honorable M. Hampton Todd, issue its writ of quo warranto directed to the late religious society known as the Harmony Society, Susie C. Duss, its last elected trustee, John S. Duss, de facto trustee, and the said Susie C. Duss, John S. Duss and Franz Gillman, individually, and did cause said writ to be served on the Beaver County Land Company, the Liberty Land Company and the Commonwealth Trust Company of Pittsburgh, Trustee:

And Whereas, answers have been filed by several of the said defendants and a replication has been filed by the Commonwealth;

And Whereas, by the said pleadings it appears that it is alleged by the Commonwealth that the said Harmony Society was a religious society organized in the year 1805, and which acquired property in Beaver county in the years 1824 and 1825 and at other times thereafter, which property was held for religious uses; and that said society at different times conveyed its real property to The Union Company, the Beaver County Land Company and thousands of different persons, and that said real property was situate not only in Beaver county but in Allegheny county, Butler county and Warren county and other counties of this Commonwealth; that the said The Union Company had conveyed some twenty-five hundred acres of land formerly occupied by said society to the Liberty Land Company in consideration of the delivery of twenty-five hundred Liberty Land Company's Purchase Money Mortgage Bonds, of the par value of $1,000.00 each, that the said society had been dissolved and ceased to exist, and that its assets had been in fact illegally distributed among the members of said society and others, and that of right all the property of said society, real or personal, on its dissolution or ceasing to exist had vested in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania;

And Whereas, it was alleged by certain of the defendants that said society was not a religious society but a trading or business association and did not hold any of its property, real or personal, for religious or charitable uses or purposes; and that its members had at any time the right to dissolve the said society and divide its effects among themselves, and that they had so done;

And Whereas, it appears that the pendency of the said litigation directly or indirectly affects or has a tendency to cast a cloud on many titles to real estate in Beaver county and other counties of this Commonwealth where ever said society at any time since 1805 owned and conveyed real property, and said litigation has a tendency to embarrass thousands of owners of small homes in mortgaging or conveying the same;

And whereas, it appears that of the purchase money bonds of said Liberty Land Company issued as aforesaid, only ten hundred and seventy-six (1076) remain outstanding, the residue having been cancelled or retired; and that of the said outstanding bonds one hundred and ninety-two (192) are owned by innocent third parties, at no time members of said society, and that except as to sixty-seven (67) of said bonds, former members of said society have pledged all of said bonds owned by them to secure certain indebtedness of themselves or of said society, aggregating two hundred and fifty thousand ($250,000.00) dollars, and that the interest coupons on said bonds have not been paid for the past six years;

And whereas, it appears that the stock of said Beaver County Land Company is owned by former members of said society except as to some two (2) shares thereof, and that said stock has been pledged to secure said indebtedness of two hundred and fifty thousand ($250,000.00) dollars, or a portion thereof, and that said Beaver County Land Company is seized in fee, as appears by the recorded instruments, of about five (5) acres, more or less, of land situate in the former Village of Economy, Pa., now the Borough of Ambridge, Beaver County, Pennsylvania, and also of certain scattered lots located in the City of Beaver Falls and the adjacent territory in Beaver County, Pennsylvania, the whole of which is real estate of said Beaver County Land Company and assessed in 1915, for the purpose of local taxation at an amount not exceeding ninety-seven thousand two hundred forty-four ($97,244.00) dollars; and that said corporation owes debts exceeding one hundred seventy thousand ($170,000.00) dollars;

And whereas, counsel representing the Commonwealth and the defendants, after many conferences and consideration of the matter involved, have agreed upon terms of settlement and compromise of said litigation in nowise prejudicing the positions assumed by the defendants in said pleading and not intended by them to recognize or admit any right of the Commonwealth, but only to put an end to protracted litigation and quiet title to real and personal property wherever situate that was at any time held by or for said society. By said agreement it is proposed to convey in fee simple absolutely to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania those two certain parcels of land both situate in the Fourth Ward of the Borough of Ambridge, County of Beaver and Commonwealth aforesaid, bounded and described as follows, to wit:

(1)—All that certain parcel commonly known as the "Great House Block," bounded and described as follows, to wit:

Beginning at the northeast corner of the within-described parcel, (said corner being a point formed by the intersection of the south line of Fourteenth Street with the west line of Church Street); thence along the west line of Church Street, south no degrees 29' east, three hundred and ninety-seven hundredths (300.97) feet to a point at the corner of Church and Thirteenth Streets; thence along the north line of Thirteenth Street S. 88 degrees 54' west, three hundred ninety-eight and eighty-five hundredths (398.85 feet to a point at the corner of Thirteenth Street and Ohioview Avenue; thence along the east line of Ohioview Avenue, N. O. degrees 41' 38" W., three hundred one and ninety-three hundredths (301.93) feet to a point at the corner of Ohioview Avenue; thence along the south line of Fourteenth Street N. 89 degrees 02' 30" E., three hundred ninety-nine and ninety-six hundredths (399.96) feet to a point at the place of beginning.

(2)—All that certain parcel, being part of the block commonly known as the "Music Hall" block, bounded and described as follows, to wit:

Beginning at the southwest corner of said block, being the corner formed by the intersection of the northerly line of Fourteenth Street with the easterly line of Ohioview Avenue; thence by said northerly line of Fourteenth Street N. 89 degrees 02' 30" E., Four hundred and eighteen hundreds (400.18) feet to a point at corner of Church and Fourteenth Streets; thence by Church Street N. O. degrees 29' West, One hundred eighty-three and seventy-one hundreds (183.71) feet to a point; thence S. 89 degrees 06' 30" W., Four hundred and eighty-eight hundredths (400.88) feet to a point on east line of Ohioview Avenue; and thence by Ohioview Avenue, S. O. degrees 41' 38" E., One hundred eighty-four and nineteen hundredths (184.19) feet, to the place of beginning.

Reserving, however, the right of possession to the Beaver County Land Company, its successors and assigns, until January 1st, 1917, of the former music hall and three wine cellars and buildings connected therewith of the said society, in which have been stored certain furnishings and supplies that were of said society, which said buildings on said portion, the possession of which is intended to be reserved for the said period, are erected upon all that certain parcel, piece or lot of land in the Fourth Ward of the Borough of Ambridge, being part of the block commonly known as the "Music Hall" Block, bounded and described as follows, to wit:

Beginning at the southeast corner of the within-described parcels,—(said corner being a point formed by the intersection of the west line of Church Street with the north line of Fourteenth Street); thence along the north line of Fourteenth Street S. 89 degrees 02' 30" W., Two hundred forty (240) feet to a point; thence at right angles to Fourteenth Street, N. O. degrees 57' 30" W., One hundred eighty-four (184) feet to a point; thence N. 89 degrees 06' 30" E., Two hundred forty-one and fifty-one hundredths (241.51) feet to a point in the west line of Church Street; thence by said west line S. O. degrees 29' E., One hundred eighty-three and seventy-one hundredths (183.71) feet to a point, at the place of beginning.

And by said agreement it is further proposed to pay to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the sum of fifteen thousand ($15,000) dollars cash forthwith upon the conclusion of the proposed settlement and the entry of the Judgment and the Order or Decree hereinafter mentioned, and to pay the record costs of said proceeding.

And Whereas, in the opinion of the Attorney General, the Auditor General, the State Treasurer, and of counsel for the Commonwealth in said litigation, it is for the best interest of the Commonwealth, both in its corporate capacity and as custodians of the welfare of its citizens, that said settlement should be made and that the title to all of said real and personal property that was of said society should be quieted and settled insofar as relates to the said claim of the Commonwealth;

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the Attorney General, the Auditor General and that State Treasurer be and they are hereby authorized, empowered and directed to make said settlement and compromise in the name and on behalf of the Commonwealth, and to receive for the Commonwealth the deed for said described real property with the reservation of possession as aforesaid as to a portion thereof, and to receive for the Commonwealth the said sum of money; and thereupon there is hereby released to the said defendants, or parties upon which said writ was served, and to each and every one of them, their heirs, grantees and assigns, all the real and personal property that was of the Harmony Society, at any time, and not included in the property to be conveyed to the Commonwealth under the terms of such settlement, and the said Attorney General, Auditor General and State Treasurer are authorized to apply to the Court of Common Pleas of Beaver county to have entered in said litigation such Judgment, Order and Decree as will effectually conclude all litigation, and forever extinguish any and all title or claim which might or could be asserted by or through the Commonwealth, except tax claims, if any, against all the property, real or personal, of said Society held by the parties to said suit or served with said writ or by any person holding, through or under them or said society.

RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL NO. 488 FROM THE GOVERNOR.

Mr. REYNOLDS offered the following concurrent resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the House of Representatives, April 28, 1915.

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 488, file folio 3293, entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An Act to encourage and authorize the formation of co-operative banking associations where the profits derived from the business after paying all legitimate expenses shall accrue to the depositors and borrowers of the association in proportion to their deposits or loans' approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three and providing for the conversion of co-operative banking associations into banks of discount and deposits under certain regulations," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like the sponsor of this bill to explain its purpose.

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker, this bill proposes to reduce the days of quarantine of chickenpox, measles, German measles and mumps, from twenty-one days to sixteen days, and permits immune contacts, that is children who have had these diseases, to be removed from the House of contagion and to continue in school. That is all it is.

On the qestion, recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—2.

Brownlee,
Rothenberger,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1075 (Senate No. 288), entitled:

An Act regulating the payment of certain deposits made with any bank trust company or savings institution in the name of two persons

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. This being a Senate Bill, the sponsor is not in the House.

Mr. BAKER. Then Mr. Speaker, the end and purpose of this bill or rather the end will be,—the doctrine of survivorship will apply; that is, if there be a joint fund deposited in a trust company or bank by two persons, the survivor, in the case of the death of one, will take the whole. This will defeat the right of the creditors, that is the creditors of the deceased. Another effect will be that it will defeat the right of the State to collect a collateral tax due from the deceased, if the docrine of survivorship did not apply. Another matter to be considered is that the amount is limited to one thousand dollars to a bank. I do not know the number of banks in the Cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, but the amount which would be lost to the creditors of the deceased would be a large sum of money. For that reason I am opposed to the bill.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. GIBSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. GARNER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1036, entitled:

An Act providing for a uniform rate of taxation upon all property subject to taxation within the territorial limits of cities of the second class of this Commonwealth for the payment of current expenses and the payment of the indebtedness of said cities or any territorial part thereof and for all other municipal purposes

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

on page 6 of to-day's calendar, was recommitted to the Committee on Fisheries, be reconsidered.

Mr. LEIGHNER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House, this bill No. 134 on page six of to-day's calendar was recommitted.

The SPEAKER. Is this bill in the hands of the Committee?

Mr. SPANGLER. I do not know where this bill is. I know it was recommitted while I was out of the Chamber.

The SPEAKER. I ask the Clerk where the bill is at present.

Mr. SPANGLER. It is on the second reading calendar.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would announce that the bill is in the hands of the Committee.

Mr. SPANGLER. This bill was recommitted and I was not in the chamber. It was not called up and I was going to talk on the motion.

The SPEAKER. The motion is out of order. The only motion in order would be to discharge the Committee from further consideration of this bill, as the bill has already gone to the Committee.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I make that motion.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will put the motion in writing and in the meantime, the House will proceed to the consideration of the next bill on the calendar.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1412, entitled:

An Act legalizing the killing of foxes

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. HARPER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. HARPER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 1500, File Folio 6761, on page 22, of to-day's postponed calendar.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1500, entitled:

An Act to amend an act entitled "An Act defining public service companies and providing for their regulation by prescribing and defining their duties and liabilities prescribing defining and limiting their powers and regulating their incorporations and to a limited extent regulating municipal corporations engaged or about to engage in the business of public service companies creating and establishing a Public Service Commission for the regulation aforesaid prescribing and defining the powers and duties of such Commission and its officers including the exclusive power to regulate the construction alteration relocation or abolition of the crossings of railroad corporations street railway corporations or other public service companies and of public highways by the tracks or other facilities of said companies providing for the ascertainment by the Commission of the expense and damages resulting from such construction alteration relocation or abolition and for the payment of such expense and damages severally or proportionately by the public service companies interested the State or municipal corporation concerned and giving persons whose property is thereby taken injured or destroyed authority to sue the Commonwealth for damages in such cases providing for the terms salaries and compensation of the members of the commission its officers counsel and employes prescribing and regulating the practice and procedure before such commission and upon appeal and judicial review of its orders and determinations by the courts of common pleas and giving the court of common pleas of Dauphin county exclusive jurisdiction of such appeals in certain cases and of all injunctions mandamus or other appropriate proceedings to enforce the provisions of this act and the orders of the commission and to restrain such orders subject to an appeal to the Supreme Court prescribing penalties fines and imprisonment for the violation of the provisions of this act and for the violation of the orders of said commission making it the duty of the Public Service Commission to enforce the provisions of the act approved the nineteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "An Act to promote the safety of travelers and employes on railroads by compelling common carriers by railroad to properly man their trains by amending section nine thereof repealing the act approved the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred and seven which provided for the appointment of the Pennsylvania State Railroad Commission and sections one and two of the act approved the fourth day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three entitled "An Act to enforce the provisions of the seventeenth article of the Constitution relative to railroads and canals" and an act entitled "To provide the maximum car service charges including car storage charges that railroad companies and corporations or associations may charge and collect on each car loading and not unloaded within the free time for unloading cars and fixing the free time that shall be allowed for unloading cars" approved the twenty-fourth day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and seven and the proviso of clause three and the provisos of clause seven of section thirty-four of the act entitled "An Act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations" approved the twenty-ninth day of April one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four and all other legislation inconsistent with or supplied by this act approved the twenty-sixth day of July Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and thirteen

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HARPER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this is a bill of the Municipal Home Rule League, and it provides for the amendment of the Public Service Act in three particulars.

The first is that under certain conditions the Commission can appoint an examiner or commissioner to take testimony in the same manner as depositions are now taken in Common Pleas cases. In the second instance it provides that in "crossing cases" there may be appeals to the Court of Common Pleas of the county in which the crossing was situate. And in the third instance it amends the following section: Section 26 of Article V. In this section there is a proviso as the law now stands, "that whenever the Commission shall determine it to be necessary in the interests of the public to withhold from the public any fact or information obtained during the progress of any investigation such facts and information may be withheld." This bill provides for the repeal of that part of the section, so that no testimony or evidence shall go before the Commission that is not known by both sides as the case now is.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill under consideration is along the same lines as the two bills passed by the House the other day known as the Vickerman and Steedle bills. It amends three sections of the Public Service bill and is approved by the Municipal Home League of Pennsylvania.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

The SPEAKER (Mr. Ambler) in the Chair.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 297, entitled:

An Act to regulate the hours of employment of signalmen towermen gatemen agents train despatchers telegraphers or telephone operators in signal towers or public railroad stations of any railroad operated by steam electricity or other motive power in this State and providing for compensation for extra service performed by such employes

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. HOWARTH. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1452 (Senate Bill No. 668), entitled:

An Act establishing in counties of a population of from two hundred thousand inhabitants to three hundred and twenty-five thousand inhabitants a board for the assessment and revision of taxes prescribing their powers duties and salaries and abolishing the office of city borough township and ward assessors

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill provides for the appointment by the County Commissioners in every county over two hundred thousand and less than three hundred and fifty thousand of a Board of Assessors, and provides for them a large salary, to wit, the sum of three thousand dollars. Under the present law the assessors in each district and each precinct and ward are elected by the people. This bill provides that the Board of Assessors appointed by the Commissioners shall also appoint Assistant Assessors who shall make the assessment over the entire county. Time and time again in this session we have had men get up and appeal to you for the right of the people to rule. This particular bill hits right at that particular right. It seems to me that we ought to be willing to trust the people to elect men to make our assessments. There is a tendency now-a-days to get away from that and it seems to me it is all right now out in our county —and we are included in this bill. Our County Commissioners outside of this assessment, would have little to do. They would have very little to do and could easily do this work as it now stands. Why should we spend nine thousand dollars more for a Board of Assessors? We believe that it is wrong, first, in principle; second, it would add nine thousand dollars more to the money which we would be required to spend. But there is another reason: I am opposed to putting that power in the hands of the County Commissioners to appoint men for that position who will appoint assessors in every district in the county.

Those county commissioners could build up a machine that I cannot see how any power could break it down. For instance, suppose in my particular district I would have an assistant assessor appointed. I would tell him to be favorable to a particular set of fellows and we, in that district, can build up a machine, a machine that would control under every circumstance. And that is in the hands of the county commissioners all over the county. It is one of the most dangerous things we could pass at this session. More than that, I am told in Allegheny county, where they have tried this for years, they would be glad to get away from that proposition and this Board of Assessors elected by the people.

Why shouldn't they be elected by the people? Can't we trust them? Can't we trust the people even that far? When the Board of Assessors as now appointed would be right, it might work out splendidly, but when it would be wrong, it would be all wrong and I hope you gentlemen will vote this bill down.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker ,this is a very vicious bill. Two years ago this Legislature defeated a similar bill. This is a most unpopular move in our county,—to put upon us the requirements of this bill. This provides for three assessors to be appointed by the County Commissioners and they in turn to plot out the county in districts and appoint sub-assessors. That would naturally mean that a man from the city would be appointed in those districts to go out into the agricultural districts and assess the property. That to my mind is absurd. The requirements of this bill are absurd all the way through, and I trust that this House will take the same stand as the House did two years ago. Let us have our present system of assessing. It is perfectly satisfactory to us. There is no need in our county for this bill, and if this goes through I think this House will make a sorry mistake in passing a bill of this kind. I vigorously protest the passage of this bill and trust you will give us the present system. Let us elect our assessors by the people, and if they have any trouble they have a place for redress, but under its provisions difficulty would arise and untold trouble will result in our county. Protests have been coming in right along against the passage of this bill and I sincerely hope you will give us our present system by voting this bill down.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the attack on this "vicious" bill, I wish to inform you that my colleague, Mr. Davis, like the other members from Lackawanna county, have been pledged to the support of this bill. This bill was drafted by a number of citizens and a leading newspaper of the City of Scranton, and this leading newspaper, in turn, had all of the candidates for legislative office, including the Senator, pledged to the support of this bill.

It is true there has been objection to this bill. We have received one objection to it and that is a man from Mr. Davis' district. That is the only objection from our county which I have received.

It might be interesting to the gentlemen to know that in the City of Scranton we have twenty-two men elected, one from each ward, to make the city assessment for the county. We also have a board of five, appointed by the Mayor, to make the city assessment for the city, with the result that the county assessment is twelve million dollars lower than the city. That is why this bill was introduced. We want a common Board. We want a Board that will make the one assessment for the city,—not twenty-two men to make the city assessment for the county, and five for the city, which will naturally continue to show the big discrepancies they have shown in the past.

Now, gentlemen, there is no particular opposition to this bill from Lackawanna county, except a little from the farming district. This does not eliminate the farmer from being represented, these assessors will appoint men from the farming districts, just as they will from the city districts.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I wish to inform this House that I never pledged myself for this bill. I want this House to be informed properly. I was always opposed to it. I was opposed to it two years ago and am still opposed to it. It is unfair.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate my colleague from Lackawanna.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Davis, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman if it is not true, in reply to a question from the Scranton Tribune-Republican that the gentlemen said he would advocate and support the bills as presented by them on the question of the revision of taxes and assessment?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, no, sir. And in explanation to the House I will say that I only agreed to support a single tax office in the City of Scranton, which had nothing to do with this assesor's bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, I call for a verification of the roll.

The SPEAKER. The roll call will be verified.

This was done as follows:

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with the information that the House has passed the same without amendment.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire how Mr. Cox voted.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I object. I don't know that this gentleman has any right to ask how Mr. Cox or any other man voted. It is Mr. Cox's privilege to correct the roll and nobody else's.

The SPEAKER. Mr. Cox is not recorded as voting.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Klinger is not here but is recorded as voting.

The SPEAKER. Mr. Klinger voted in the affirmative. This roll has been verified and the gentleman should pay attention to the vote.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, I notice that Mr. Rinn was recorded in the affirmative and he is not here.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Rinn was in the room a few minutes ago.

The SPEAKER. Are there any other corrections?

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, I did not hear my name mentioned.

The CHIEF CLERK. The gentleman is recorded as voting "no."

The SPEAKER. The roll will stand as verified on the final passage, 118 yeas and 52 nays.

COMMITTEE DISCHARGED FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL NO. 134.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the Committee on Fisheries be discharged from further action on House Bill No. 134, File Folio 6849, entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred nine entitled "An Act to classify the fish in the waters within this Commonwealth declaring which are game fish which are food and which are bait fish and to regulate the catching and sale and encourage the propagation of the same to protect the waters within this Commonwealth from unfair improper wasteful and destructive fishing and to protect fish from being destroyed or injured by destructive means to provide for the appointment of fish-wardens and to declare their official powers and duties to encourage and regulate the propagation of fish within this Commonwealth and regulate the free distribution of the same by the Department of Fisheries in the waters within the same to define powers and duties of the Department of Fisheries to regulate the sale and shipment of fish artificially propagated for profit to forbid the sale of unlawful devices for catching fish and to provide penalties and punishments for the violation of the provisions of this act and providing how and by whom the costs shall be paid" by adding a section thereto to be known as section eight

Mr. LEIGHNER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to have this motion carried because this bill is a meritorious bill but was called up on second reading when I, who is its sponsor, was out of the chamber. In my absence, the motion was made to have this bill sent back to the Committee on Fisheries where it is evidently proposed that the bill shall be killed. Mr. Speaker, if this bill goes back to the Committee on Fisheries there can be no question but that it will be sacrificed on the altar of death which this committee is in respect to all bills that are submitted to it with the exception of those bills that have the O. K. of the committee in question or of the Sportsman's Association. For two months I have struggled to have this bill considered by the Committee and after they did consider it they reported it negatively inspite of the fact that I asked them to inform me before they took action on the bill. Finally a sub-committee was appointed and then when I was out of the chamber the bill was practically defeated by the members of this House unwittingly. I ask for fair play for a measure of this character. If this bill were not a measure that had merit; if it was not a measure that should come fairly and squarely before you on yea and nay vote, I would not stand here and fight for it. It is a bill for which a great many of my constituents in York County are struggling and striving because it involves their property rights of which they have been deprived under the Act of 1913. For that reason I ask the gentlemen of this House to have this bill taken out of the hands of this Committee which has given it such a raw deal and submit it to the House where it belongs and have a fair yea and nay vote on it and where it either can be carried or defeated squarely.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman from York, I desire to give you the true facts of this case, as the gentleman from York well knows. On Monday evening, I wrote a motion and took the motion to the gentleman from York and he then assured me that if I would not take any action on it that he would personally come to me after seeing Senator McConnell, who had a similar bill in the Senate. I assured the gentleman then that I would do nothing until such time as I heard from him either later in the evening or in the morning, that was on Monday evening. He makes the statement that this bill was referred to a sub-committee. The statement is true but he fails to tell you that the sub-committee consisted of three members, myself, Mr. Fretz, two of them, myself and Mr. Fretz, I think, of Bucks, knew nothing about the meeting called for the purpose of reporting this bill one way or the other. If something has been done which is unfair according to the remarks of the gentleman from York County, whether or not anything has been done that is unfair in reporting this out, it was done unawares to myself and Mr. Fretz.

Mr. HACKETT. Mr. Speaker, as secretary of the Fish Committee, I wish to state that this bill has been reported out fairly. I keep the minutes of the Committee and I will be glad to show the gentleman that I have the action on that bill recorded, and every thing has been absolutely fair and square on this measure and every other measure that has been before this Committee. We have favored the Fish Commissioner of Pennsylvania and anybody else. We have favored the men who are interested in the sportsmen of Pennsylvania. Now in reference to this bill. This bill has been treated unfairly. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the bill be put upon the floor of the House, and I hope that everybody will sustain the gentleman from York, Mr. Spangler.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion.

The SPEAKER declared that the ayes appeared to have it.

Whereupon a division was called for, 86 voting in the affirmative and 49 in the ngeative.

And the question was determined in the affirmative.

SENATE MESSAGES.

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in a resolution of the House of Representatives, as follows, viz:

Resolved (if the Senate concur) that House Bill No. 488, File Folio 3293, entitled:

A supplement to an act entitled "An Act to encourage and authorize the formation of co-operative banking associations where the profits derived from the business after paying all legitimate expenses shall accrue to the depositors and borrowers of the association in proportion to their deposits or loans" approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand eight hundred ninety-three and providing for the conversion of co-operative banking associations into banks of discount and deposit under certain regulations be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in a resolution of the House of Representatives, as follows, viz:

In the House of Representatives, April 25, 1915.

Resolved, (if the Senate concur) That House Bill No. 1130, File Folio 4949, entitled:

An Act to prohibit in cities of the second class the construction or erection of public or community vaults crypts or mausolems (that is to say vaults crypts or mausoleums or parts of mausoleums intended for sale to the public) for the interment of human bodies where the building containing such vaults crypts or mausoleums is wholly or partially above the surface of the ground

be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in a resolution of the House of Representatives, as follows, viz:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 12.

Whereas American manufacturing industries are only operating to a certain small percentage of their capacity at the present time which is chiefly attributed to the unstable business conditions and general depression existing throughout the country and

Whereas The State of Pennsylvania the counties cities boroughs townships boards of education and public school boards public and private institutions as well as the citizens of Pennsylvania constantly have occasion to purchase equipment and supplies which are produced and manufactured in the United States of America and

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the officers of the various departments of the Government of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be requested to purchase and specify at all times the products of the United States of America and that the various counties cities boroughs townships boards of public education and public school boards public and private institutions throughout this Commonwealth as well as the private citizens be urged to specify and buy products of the United States of America and be it further

Resolved That this resolution be disseminated and widely published throughout this Commonwealth by the newspapers of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania so that all counties cities boroughs townships boards of education school boards public and private institutions throughout this Commonwealth and private citizens be informed of the adoption of this resolution by the General Assembly

SENATE MESSAGE.

HOUSE BILLS CONCURRED IN BY SENATE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced returned bills from the House of Representatives, numbered and entitled as follows, viz:

House Bill No. 760.

An Act providing for the alteration of the boundaries of counties in certain cases and for the adjustment of the indebtedness thereof

House Bill No. 1147.

An Act fixing the salaries of the Associate Judges not learned in the law of the Courts of this Commonwealth

House Bill No. 961.

An Act imposing certain liabilities on persons firms and corporations in cities of the second class for the cost of extinguishing fires which occur through their criminal intent design or wilful negligence or where they have not complied with any law ordinance or other lawful regulation for the prevention of fire or the spreading thereof providing a method for the ascertainment of such cost and the manner of collecting the same

House Bill No. 1134.

An Act to amend an act approved the twenty-sixth day of April one thousand eight hundred eighty-three entitled "An Act relative to the eligibility of candidates for the office of district attorney"

With information that the Senate has passed the same without amendment.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. WILDMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 412, File Folio 5689, entitled:

An Act establishing and regulating the Department of State Police and Fixing its powers and duties was defeated on third reading on April 20th be reconsidered.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of this House, I think that it was decided the other night very decidely that the State Police Force should not be increased at this session by a vote of 125 to 61. This is the sixth day I think since we took that action, and I hope you will vote this motion down to reconsider.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the ayes appear to have it.

Whereupon a division was called for, 59 voting in the affirmative and 54 in the negative.

And the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. WILDMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. GANS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, I think we should settle this thing right now, and not have it go on the calendar and lay there on the postponed calendar indefinitely. This is the same old trick they tried to work two years ago—exactly the same proposition. For the benefit of you younger members of the House, let me show you that this was worked four years years ago. The bill the first time before us was defeated. They moved to reconsider and that motion carried. It was put on the postponed calendar and then the steam roller started to work. If you understand what is good for yourselves, you will defeat this bill now. They will bring pressure to bear on you from all sources to make you change your views. Two years ago the same proposition was before us and Representative Allen at that time very ably explained to the younger members of the House what would happen if they would not carry out their convictions at that time. At the present time, you believe as you voted last week, expressed your sentiments and your convictions. If you vote to-day you express them that way again, but if you let this go on the postponed calendar, then all the pressure that can be brought to bear upon you to make you change your views will take place. I therefore hope you will not allow yourselves to be put in that disagreeable position. It is a very disagreeable position, and every one of you understands how that works. It is a disagreeable position for any man to be placed in. Now is the time to unload that. Save yourselves from embarassment in the future. I hope you will vote to bring this matter up and settle this matter right now this morning, and not—

The SPEAKER. The Chair has been very lenient with the gentleman from Berks, but a motion to postpone is not debatable.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, I am grateful to the Speaker for the courtesy extended, and I hope you will vote down the motion to postpone.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Garner and Mr. Williams were as follows:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative, and the amendments concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. ARON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1069, File Folio 5217, entitled:

An Act requiring railroads to remove grade crossings and providing penalties was defeated on third reading on April 27th, be reconsidered.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. RINN. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

HOUSE BILLS NOS. 1041 AND 1042 MADE SPECIAL ORDERS.

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1041, entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved the eighteenth day of June one thousand eight hundred ninety-seven entitled "An Act limiting the number of inmates of State prisons penitentiaries State reformatories and other penal institutions within the State of Pennsylvania to be employed in manufacturing goods therein and prohibiting the use of machinery in manufacturing said goods" as originally enacted and as amended by an act approved the twenty-eighth day of April one thousand eight hundred ninety-nine and House Bill No. 1042, entitled:

An Act providing a system of employment and compensation for the inmates of the Eastern Penitentiary Western Penitentiary and the Pennsylvania Industrial Reformatory at Huntingdon and for such other correctional institutions as shall be hereafter established by the Commonwealth and making an appropriation therefor known as the prison labor bills be made a special order of business for third reading for Tuesday evening, May 4th, at nine o'clock.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 1.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I wish to report at this time from the Judiciary General Committee on Concurrent Resolution No. 1 as follows:

Whereas One Valentine Brobst Senior died about one thousand eight hundred thirty-eight seized of more than fifty tracts of land in Eastern Pennsylvania each of which contained from three hundred to three thousand acres and

Whereas The lawful heirs of said Valentine Brobst Senior alleged through conspiracy and fraud they have been deprived of said lands which now on account of the vast deposits of coal therein contained are extremely valuable and

Whereas the heirs of said Valentine Brobst Senior allege that they have vainly endeavored by litigation to regain said lands of which they allege they have been deprived by fraud and conspiracy therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the Attorney General is hereby directed to investigate the charges of fraud and conspiracy whereby the heirs of Valentine Brobst Senior allege they have been deprived of many valuable tracts of land in Eastern Pennsylvania and to ascertain whether such charges are true and to report thereon at this session of the General Assembly with such recommendations in the premises as to them shall seem proper

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the report.

The Clerk then read the report as follows:

The Committee of Judiciary General of the House of Representatives reports Concurrent Resolution No. 1 to the House with the recommendation that no action can be taken by the Attorney General as requested in the said resolution because all of the questions involved and all the complaints made by the heirs who appeared before the Committee are decided and disposed of by the decision by the Supreme Court of the State of Pennsylvania in the case of Riffert vs. The Lehigh Coal Company reported in 232 Pennsylvania State Reports page 629.

The Committee therefore recommends that the House vote down the Resolution because of the reasons hereinbefore set forth.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, as I understand this matter the author of Resolution No. 1 desires that after the report from the Judiciary General Committee was made to this House that he as sponsor of the Resolution would call it up for definite action. The sponsor of the Resolution is the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Maurer.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Berks, Mr. Maurer.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, what is the nature of the Resolution.

The SPEAKER. It is Resolution No. 1, file folio No. 15.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker to clarify the situation I ask leave to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Maurer.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Maurer permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAURER. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker I would ask the gentleman from Berks if there was not a meeting to-day of the sub-committee of the Judiciary General Committee of this House at which meeting there were present the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Maurer, and two of the Brobst heirs.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker I would further interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I would interrogate the gentleman by asking whether or not at that time it was not clearly established that a decision of the Supreme Court rendered absolutely nugatory and of no avail any action that this House might take with reference to concurrent resolution No. 1.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, Resolution No. 1, yes sir.

RESOLUTION DROPPED FROM CALENDAR.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this resolution be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Which were referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1189, entitled:

An Act to permit farmers to hawk peddle and sell their own products withouut a license fee in and about the streets of any borough of this Commonwealth

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Blair, Mr. McCurdy, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCURDY. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, is not the farmer already protected by Acts of Assembly and by decisions of our courts from the imposition of a license to hawk or peddle on the streets of a borough?

Mr. McCURDY. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, there is now on the statute books an act similar if not exactly the same, as the first section of this bill, which prohibits the boroughs from enacting an ordinance imposing a tax upon the farmers selling their produce in the respective boroughs of this Commonwealth. The intent of the section is to prohibit a borough from enacting an ordinance prohibting the sale of their produce in the boroughs. Does that answer the gentleman's question?

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, has it not already been decided by our courts that a borough cannot impose a license fee or tax on farmers for selling products of their own raising?

Mr. McCURDY. Mr. Speaker to make this matter clear. In the county of Blair, we have now a case where a borough has passed an ordinance prohibiting the selling or peddling of farm produce, they did not make any license fee, just simply an ordinance prohibiting the sale of it in the borough. The second section of this act is to remedy that trouble.

Mr. BAKER. Are there not decisions of our courts on this very question, to make these ordinances that you speak of null and void and of no effect?

Mr. McCURDY. Mr. Speaker, not that I know off.

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I do not have any objections to the measure, but my position is that the farmers are already protected.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Baker.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered. That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1154, entitled:

An Act to further amend an act approved the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred eleven, entitled "An act providing for the establishment of a State Highway Department, by the appointment of a State Highway Commissioner, two deputy State Highway Commissioners, chief engineer, chief draughtsman, superintendents of highways, and a staff of assistants and employes; defining their duties and the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department, and fixing salaries of commissioner and deputies and other appointees; providing for taking over from the counties or townships of the Commonwealth certain existing public roads connecting county seats, principal cities and towns, and extending to the State line; describing and defining same by route numbers as the State Highways of the Commonwealth; providing for the improvement, maintenance, and repair of said State Highways solely at the expense of the Commonwealth and relieving the several townships or counties from any further obligation and expense to improve or maintain the same, and relieving said townships or counties of authority over same; requiring boroughs and incorporated towns to maintain certain State Highways wholly and in part; requiring the State Highway Commissioner to make maps to be complete records thereof; conferring authority on the State Highway Commissioner; providing for the payment of damages in taking of property, or otherwise, in the improvement thereof; providing for purchase or acquiring of turnpikes or toll-roads forming all or part of any State Highway, and procedure therein; providing for work of improvement of State Highways to be done by contract, except where the State Highway Commissioner decides the work be done by the State; providing aid by the State to counties and townships desiring the same in the improvement of township or county roads; defining highways and State-aid highways; providing method of application for State aid in the improvement, maintenance, and repair of township or county roads, and prescribing the contents of township, county, borough, or incorporated town petitions; providing for percentage of cost of improvement or repairs to be paid by State, county, township, borough, or incorporated town, and requiring contracts by counties, townships, borough, and incorporated towns with Commonwealth governing same; providing for the minimum width of State Highways and State-aid highways and kind of materials to be used in the improvement; and repairs; providing penalty for injuring or destroying State Highways; making appropriations to carry out the provisions of the act; and providing for the repeal of certain acts relating to Highway Department and improvement of roads, and of all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith; and providing that existing contracts are not affected by provisions of this act."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. E. E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, there have been several inquiries concerning this bill. It has a very voluminous title and perhaps is not understood. This is not a bill making any new highways in the State. It changes the location of some four or five highways of the Sproul Routes. It adds no mileage to that system in any way; in fact, two of the roads it shortens. It merely changes a few of these routes. It passed the committee where it was given close consideration and it is a perfectly proper bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—1.

Eppley,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1033, as follows:

An Act to provide a board of commissioners of the Pennsylvania Nautical Training School defining their powers and duties and making an appropriation

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall appoint as soon as practicable after the passage of this act three citizens of this Commonwealth who shall constitute a board of commissioners of the Pennsylvania Nautical Training School and who shall hold office for terms of one two and three years respectively from the first day of July in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen and until their successors are appointed and qualified and thereafter before the first day in July in each year thereafter one commissioner shall be appointed in like manner to hold office for the term of three years from the first day of July Vacancies may be filled for the unexpired term by appointment and a commissioner may be removed at any time for cause to be stated in the order of removal All appointments and removals shall be made by the Governor

Section 2 Said commissioners shall serve without compensation but they shall be allowed all expenses actually and necessarily incurred by them in the performance of their official duties

Section 3 Said commissioners shall provide and maintain a Nautical Training School for the instruction and training of pupils in the science and practice of navigation shall furnish accommodations for the school on board a proper vessel shall from time to time purchase and provide such books stationery apparatus and supplies as are needed in the work of the school shall appoint and remove instructors and other necesasry employes and determine their compensation shall fix the terms and conditions upon which pupils shall be received and instructed in the school and discharged or dismissed therefrom and shall establish all rules and regulations necessary for the management of the school For the purpose of giving the pupils of the school a practical knowledge of navigation and the duties of mariners said commissioner's shall from time to time provide for the making of cruises

Section 4 Said commissioners are authorized to receive from the United States Government and to use for the accommodation of the school such vessel or vessels as the Secretary of the Navy may detail for that purpose

Section 5 To carry out the purposes of this act the sum of one hundred thousand dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the use of the commissioners Payment of said money shall be on requisition of the commissioners and on warrant of the Auditor General No expenditure shall be made or allowed until a vessel suitable for the proposed Nautical Training School shall have been furnished by the United States Government and turned over to the Commonwealth and the same approved of and accepted by the commissioners on behalf of the Commonwealth

Section 6 Said commissioners shall biennially in writing report to the General Assembly presenting a detailed statement of all moneys appropriated and expended for the purpose of the Nautical Training School during the two calendar years last preceding also stating the results of the work during such years and making such recommendations as seem to them proper

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading.

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire of the sponsor, the purpose of this bill.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, the purpose of House Bill No. 1033 is just what the title says it is, to provide a Board of Commissioners of the Pennsylvania Nautical Training School, defining their duties and powers, and making an appropriation. The purpose of the bill is to establish a nautical training school. The Federal Government will supply a vessel if the State of Pennsylvania will supply an appropriation to finance the project. There are several reasons why at this particular time that is particularly desirable legislation. In the first place, the completion of the Panama Canal is going to increase at a tremendous rate our coast-wise trade. In the second place the events on the other side of the pond are making it especially advisable that at this time America has an opportunity as she has never before to establish for herself a merchant marine. Even our National Congress has been debating for months past the advisability of investing millions of money in the purchase of vessels to carry the products of our farms and our factories and our mills to distant markets. Now, gentlemen, it requires no argument to convince every man in this House that this is the opportune time for the United States to enter into the project of establishing for itself a merchant marine that will be second to none in the world. If we attempt to establish a merchant marine such as will reflect credit upon our country it is highly important that these vessels should be manned by American seamen. At the present time there are but two nautical schools. The State of Massachusetts has a nautical school and the State of New York has a Nautical School, both of them splendid institutions.

The second largest port, or the port from which the second largest amount of exports is being exported is our own port of Philadelphia. In view of these conditions I feel sure that there is no doubt in any one's mind that this Commonwealth of ours should contribute its share in educating the young men of our State to a seafaring life so that we will have young men prepared and ready to man the vessels as our merchant marine grows, and I trust that the gentlemen of this House will vote in favor of this bill.

Mr. SHOWALTER in the Chair.

Mr. McCLINTOCK. Mr. Speaker, I am in favor of this bill but as it carries with it an appropriation of one hundred thousand dollars I think that it should be referred to the Committee on Appropriations, because if the appropriation is not made for it the bill would be useless if we did pass it in its present condition.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman I would say that the arrangement is that it goes to the Senate and there it will be referred to the Commitee on Appropriations, so that it will be taken care of in the Senate.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Shoop, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHOOP. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman how much money this exemption of bonds issued by the school district will take from the State Revenues.

Mr. SHOOP. Mr. Speaker, I could not answer that exactly.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, this is another exemption bill, and my information is that it will reduce the revenues of the State something in excess of a hundred thousand dollars. If it is the intention of this Legislature to continue this exemption principle all well and good, but I desire to call the attention of the House to the fact that as we pass these day after day, we deplete the State Treasury of the funds that should rest there. I think it is only my duty as Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee to call the attention of the House to the fact that in continuing this pracice of exempting various classes from their taxation burden, we will soon have no money in the treasury.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, if this Legislature is going to exempt securities from taxation, I do not see why any special favor should be shown to the school districts. People who invest in school bonds buy them because they want them, just the same as they invest in mortgages. The mortgage is taxed four mills, the school bonds are taxed four mills, your borough bonds are taxed four mills, and everything except the securities of the State itself are taxed. It seems to me therefore that the taxpayers would simply be robbing themselves if this measure were to be enacted into law. There is no reason in the world why school securities should be favored above other securities in this State.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1136, as follows:

An Act making it unlawful for the Commissioners of any County in this Commonwealth to contract to repair, build, or rebuild any county bridges, without due advertisement for sealed proposals and the employment of a competent engineer; making it mandatory that location plans be submitted in duplicate to the Water Supply Commission of Pennsylvania, and requiring the Attorney General to defend all suits where any county within this Commonwealth is made defendant in a suit for the recovery of damages, where infringements on patents, royalties, designs and patented processes or features are alleged, where a county has complied with the provisions of this act, excepting contracts not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That from and after the passage of this act it shall not be lawful for any county commissioners of any county in this Commonwealth to make any contract to repair build or rebuild any county bridges without first making due advertisement for at least three weeks or in case of emergency one week for sealed bids or proposals to repair erect build or rebuild any county bridge or bridges in at least three newspapers published in the county where said proposals or bids are asked for said advertisement to contain the description of the repairs or plans of the kind of bridge required and fixing the time when the proposals or bids shall be closed and when said bids or proposals shall be opened Provided where such plans and specifications involve the building or rebuilding of structures over seventy (70) feet in length they shall have been made by an engineer employed by the county commissioners competent to make hydraulic studies acceptable to the Water Supply Commission of Pennsylvania and competent to analyze stresses and to check and approve details and to inspect and supervise in the office mill shop and field all the work in connection with the complete construction of any type of county bridge who shall make such hydraulic study of the bridge site and submit report of the same to the Water Supply Commission of Pennsylvania together with clearance diagrams showing discharge capacity of the proposed structure in accordance with the provisions of the act of the General Assembly approved the twenty-fifth day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and thirteen and upon approval of such clearance diagrams he shall prepare a complete set of general drawings of the bridge and give complete information as to limitation of working stresses and to the loadings including live dead wind and impact for which the structure shall be designed and prepare forms for bidding blanks copies of advertisement contract and specifications which shall be placed on file in the office of the commissioners for inspection by prospective bidders for a period of three weeks prior to opening of bids

Section 2 The proposals or bids must be accompanied with such security as the county commissioners may require which must be filed with the chief clerk or someone in charge of the commissioners' office at least one hour before the time fixed for the opening of the said bids or proposals the time of filing of the said bid or bids must be marked on the outside of the said bids and the person's name with whom filed

Section 3 The said bid or proposal shall be opened in public and in the presence of not less than two of the county commissioners and the chief clerk and a record made of each and every bid

Section 4 The commissioners shall immediately or as soon thereafter as possible after the time fixed for the opening of said bids award the contract for the repairs building or rebuilding of said bridge or bridges to the lowest responsible bidder upon the condition that the said bidder must within ten days after the notice of the award of said contract sign and execute a contract for the faithful performance of the proposal and furnish a bond in the sum not exceeding the amount of the contract and that the legality of the contract and the sufficiency and legality of the bond shall first be approved by the court of quarter sessions Provided That if the lowest bidder neglects to comply with the conditions of his bid within the time required the county commissioners shall award the same to the next lowest bidder And provided further That in case all bids are too high or unreasonable in the opinion of the county commissioners the county commissioners may reject any and all bids and advertise for new bids

Section 5 It shall be unlawful for the commissioners of any county of the Commonwealth to receive proposals for the building of county bridges except in compliance with the plans and specifications advertised and on file Where such plans and specifications involve the use of patented designs features or processes the cost of such patented designs features or processes or the royalty thereon shall be plainly stated on such plans if not the County shall pay such costs or royalties or eliminate the infringement before signing of contract

Section 6 It shall be the duty of the Attorney General where any county in the Commonwealth is made the defendant in a suit for recovery of damages royalties et cetera and when such suits allege infringement of patented designs processes or features and when such county has fully complied with the provisions of this act to defend such suit or suits where the validity of the patent is in doubt

Section 7 This act shall not apply to any contract for the repair building or rebuilding of any bridge or bridges that will cost less than two hundred and fifty dollars

Section 8 Any and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALCORN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the sponsor of this bill explain its purposes.

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, this is a similar bill to the one put through two years ago. It has this addition to it in reference to the bridges built, that all bridges under seventy feet need not have a competent engineer. In addition to that it has been taken up by the County Commissioners of my County, and the commissioners of the different counties of the State have replied endorsing said bill. The Legislative Committee of the Commissioners of the State has also endorsed said bill. This bill as it stands before us is a similar bill to that of two years ago, as I have said. If the gentleman from Clearfield wants an explanation as to repairs, it is exactly the same as it was two years ago, without any change.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1455, as follows:

An Act providing for the creation and regulation of municipal liens and the proceedings for the collection thereof in the several boroughs of this State

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever heretofore the council of any incorporated borough of this State has required by ordinance and caused to be paved curbed or macadamized with brick stone or other suitable material any public street or thoroughfare or part thereof or is now causing such paving curbing or macadamizing pursuant to such ordinance but owing to some defect in the petition or other proceeding necessary under existing law to give jurisdiction to such council or for any other reason the cost of such improvement or a portion thereof cannot be legally assessed upon the property bounding or abutting upon the street or part thereof improved as was contemplated by the act or acts of the General Assembly under which the improvement was attempted to be made now by this act such improvements are made valid and binding and the council of such incorporated borough may cause the property bounding or abutting upon the street or part thereof upon which the improvement has been made or is now being made to be assessed with such a portion of the cost of such improvement as is contemplated by the law under which the improvement was made or is now being made such assessment shall be a lien upon the property assessed The lien shall date from the completion of the improvement for which the assessment is made and shall remain a lien until fully paid and satisfied Provided That a writ of scire facias is issued to revive the same during every period of five years after a lien is filed as hereinafter provided

Section 2 The council of any incorporated borough of this State entitled to a lien under this act shall file a lien therefor in the office of the prothonotary of the county within which the property lies within six months after the completion of the work where the improvement is now in progress or within six months after the approval of this act where the improvement is now completed and the same shall be entered upon record as other municipal claims Such lien shall state the name of the party claimant which shall be the corporate name of the borough making the improvement the name of the owner or reputed owner of the property assessed a reasonable description of the property assessed the amount or sum claimed to be due which shall include interest on the assessment from the completion of the improvement for what improvement the claim is made the date of its completion the date of the assessment for which the lien is filed Such lien when so filed shall be prima facie evidence of all matters therein set forth and of the right of the borough to recover the amount therein claimed to be due together with interest from the date of filing the lien cost and an attorney's commission of five per centum for collection

Section 3 The lien when so filed shall be proceeded upon for collection by writ of scire facias The said writ shall be made returnable to the monthly or other return day in the respective courts and shall be served upon the owner or reputed owner personally or by leaving a copy thereof duly attested with an adult member of his family or of the family in which he resides at least ten days before the return thereof If the owner of the property cannot be found or has no residence within the county in which the property lies the sheriff shall thereupon return the said writ nihil and thereupon an alias scire facias may issue which shall be served by notice posted upon the premises stating the substance of the writ at least ten days prior to the return day and also by advertisement in at least two newspapers published in the county in which the premises are located once a week for three successive weeks Such posting and publication shall be equivalent to a service

Section 4 If the writ shall have been served and no appearance filed on or before the return day thereof the plaintiff therein shall be entitled to judgment after the return day thereof for the debt interest cost and attorney's commission If an appearance be entered the plaintiff shall also be entitled to judgment unless a sufficient affidavit of defense be filed within fifteen days after the return day If such affidavit be filed the cause shall be proceeded with in accordance with the rules of law and the practice of the courts

Section 5 When final judgment shall have been entered upon such lien the plaintiff therein may have a writ of levari facias and upon the same the sheriff shall cause the said property to be advertised for sale in at least two newspapers of the proper county once a week for three weeks before the day of sale and shall also give notice by at least ten handbills posted in conspicuous places one of which shall be posted on the property of the time and place of sale and thereupon shall proceed to sell the same The place of sale shall be at the sheriff's office The proceeds of sale shall be distributed according to law

Section 6 The term "owner or reputed owner" as used in this act shall mean any person or persons in open peaceable and notorious possession of the property The remaindermen or other persons interested in expectancy not having been heard and aggrieved by such final judgment upon petition presented in the proper court may have the judgment opened at any time before the sale of the property and shall be allowed to defend when in the judgment of the court such opening is necessary to secure justice to all parties Sale of the property shall preclude all persons from setting up anything contrary to the record

Section 7 Nothing in this act shall be taken to restrict the right of either plaintiff or defendant in proceedings under it to appeal as in other cases

Section 8 Any person owning property against which a lien is filed under this act may at any time present a petition to the proper court praying that the claimant in such lien be compelled to proceed for the collection thereof and thereupon the court shall make such order as the justice of the case may require

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

NAYS—1.

Christman,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 758, as follows:

An Act authorizing boroughs towns and first class townships to form and to join associations for certain purposes and to appropriate moneys therefor

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That boroughs towns and first class townships may form or join associations whose principal object shall be to maintain in Harrisburg or elsewhere agents or representatives who shall represent the association or any of its members in any hearing or proceeding or matter before any department or bureau or division or commission or other branch of the State government or before the Supreme or Superior Court or before the General Assembly or before any committee thereof or before any committee of either branch thereof and may appropriate moneys for membership in such association or associations and for special services rendered by the association or its agents

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of this bill to explain its provisions.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lycoming, Mr. Gibson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GIBSON. Mr. Speaker, yes sir. This applies to first class townships. It is endorsed by the Municipal Home Rule League I believe. It authorizes these boroughs to join together and form an association for the purpose of maintaining one or more representatives in Harrisburg to appear for them before the various bureaus and departments of the State Government. One of the main objections is the expense that these boroughs are put to in sending a solicitor or a representative here to present these different matters; this has been an expense heretofore. with the combination of these boroughs it would moderate the expense and they could send a representative here to take care of a great many of these matters for them. It is a very meritorious measure.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, just as I suspected: It is a bill practically legalizing lobbying. This bill would give the boroughs and townships a right to associate themselves together under the law for something that is considered iniquitous.

Mr. GIBSON. Mr. Speaker, since the question has been raised I think we may as well reply to it. As to the passage of this bill there may be some lawyers that may not favor it. They may not favor it, but so far as the boroughs in the various counties have had to pay lobbyists I think it is proper and right that we have men up here in our interests the same as any big corporation because we want to feel quite safe when the Legislature is in session to see and hear and know what is going on and unless we do we would not know what is going on down here.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that this is more than a trivial matter; it is a matter of legalizing a lobbyist in the legislative halls. I don't know what the expense to other men has been but it has been a pretty expensive proposition to me, the money that I have loaned to lobbyists in this hall.

Mr. BROSIUS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 797 ,entitled:

An Act authorizing and regulating the employment of convicts and prisoners on the public highways

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. GIBSON. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 2, line 7, by inserting after the word "roads" the words "the township commissioners or township supervisors as the case may be for township roads."

Amend section 5, line 8, by inserting after the word "county" the word "township"

Amend section 7, line 5, by inserting after the word "roads" the words "or the township supervisors or township commissioners as the case may be in the construction of township road."

Amend section 7, line 5, by inserting after the word "roads" the words "the township commissioners or township supervisors as the cae may be of all township roads"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to on third reading.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1030, entitled:

An Act validating certain sales of and titles to seated and unseated lands sold by county treasurers and county commissioners for the non-payment of taxes

And said bill having been read the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GLENN. Mr. Speaker, this bill is clearly unconsitutional. It attempts to bolster up some tax sales illegally made by the County Treasurer for the last ten years. Our Supreme Court held in 1913 that these sales were absolutely void. The sponsor of this bill apparently is attempting to now validate them, but you cannot pass an enabling act in this Legislature to legalize something void from its beginning. Therefore I take the position that this act is unconstitutional, and is depriving the real owners of the property, depriving them of their property without due process of law.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up from page 34 of today's Calendar, Bills on Third Reading Postponed, House Bill No. 199.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 199, entitled:

An Act to raise revenue by subjecting to taxation certain real estate not heretofore taxable as such of railroad companies street railway companies canal companies bridge companies gas companies pipeline companies ferry companies electric light heat and power companies water companies telegraph companies telephone companies express companies and all other public service corporations or so called quasi public corporations of the same or other kinds

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading.

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, this is a very important taxation bill. It is in keeping with what I said earlier in the evening that this idea of exemption from taxation in our government has gone too far. This bill proposes to tax for local purposes real estate which heretofore has not been taxable, such as real estate held by public and quasi public corporations. You know that real estate used or real estate that is essential to the carrying on of the business of a public service company or a quasi corporation is not taxed, so that railroad depots, telephone plants and such plants and establishments as those pay actually no local tax. In Pittsburgh it must amount to a great deal; in my county millions and millions of dollars are exempt from taxation. As I have said before, the idea of exemptions has gone to its very ultimate extreme and I, therefore, submit to the House this idea of having those who should do so pay their taxes and to this end I ask you for your support of this bill because it applies to all localities in the State and will tax all real estate which heretofore has not been taxable for the reasons I have just explained.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

QUESTION OF INFORMATION.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dunn.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to make an inquiry in regard to Appropriation Bill No. 138 being an appropriation for a hospital and is one of the first bills that has in it an amendment in regard to equipping the hospital with these laboratories. I raised that question yesterday in regard to these appropriation bills with this amendment because I wanted to know what would be the actual cost to the hospitals by having this amendment inserted. Some tell me it will be five hundred dollars and some tell me that it will be as high as two thousand dollars. I now want the information whether it is mandatory on the hospital to have this thing, and if it is it is going to make a very large cut in the appropriation for the maintenance of these various hospitals. There is nobody here to tell me about this but I would like to know.

Mr. EHRHARDT. Mr. Speaker, under the act passed in 1913 it is necessary to provide for this, but the appropriation puts it in this manner, as printed in the appropriation bills, for the purpose that the trustees of hospitals may install laboratories out of their maintenance at whatever cost they may get one for. It is not mandatory at all.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, in reply to my good friend from Lackawanna I want to say, in regard to the Act of 1913, applying to the Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure. It is not in that act compelling hospitals to have this in their hospital; it does not compel the hospital to do it. I only want to have the assurance that this would not be necessary. I think we ought to know.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia desire to be recorded against this appropriation?

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I want to call attention to the members of the House who are interested in these appropriation bills, if it is to be compulsory, as this does not say so.

The SPEAKER. What action does the gentleman desire to take?

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, the only action is that I will offer an amendment to these bills to strike out that part.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 141, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Saint Timothy's Memorial Hospital and House of Mercy, Roxborough, Pennsylvania.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 940, as follows:

An Act authorizing the State Highway Department to fulfill certain contracts with Lawrence county and Hickory township in said county and thereunder to finish the construction of Eastbrook road in said township

Whereas By contract number four hundred seventy-eight of the State Highway Department of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania a record of the payments under which may also be found in the office of the State Treasurer of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania at page forty-six in the ledger called the "Highway Contract Ledger" the State Highway Department of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the years of one thousand nine hundred seven and one thousand nine hundred nine constructed a certain State-aid highway in the township of Hickory in Lawrence county known as the Eastbrook road of the length of six thousand nine hundred seventy-five feet and

Whereas It was originally proposed to construct State-aid highway of the length of twelve thousand five hundred feet and

Whereas The total cost of construction inspection engineering and advertising of the part of said road so built was the sum of fifteen thousand eight hundred fifty-four dollars and three cents ($15,854.03) and under the terms of the contract existing between the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the county of Lawrence and the township of Hickory dated May first one thousand nine hundred seven the share of the same payable by the county of Lawrence and township of Hickory was the sum of three thousand nine hundred sixty-three dollars and fifty cents ($3,963.50) which was the total due from the county of Lawrence and the township of Hickory for the number of feet of the road actually constructed namely six thousand nine hundred seventy-five feet and

Whereas The county of Lawrence and the township of Hickory in order to secure the construction in the year one thousand nine hundred seven of a certain part of said road when the State Highway Department was without funds for the construction thereof paid for the use of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the sum of six thousand seven hundred fifty-two dollars and fifty cents ($6,752.50) being its total share for the construction of said road for the length of twelve thousand five hundred feet as originally agreed upon the same having been done under agreement with the State Highway Department of Pennsylvania that said road should be completed under said contract for the said distance of twelve thousand feet and

Whereas Said road has never been completed beyond the length of six thousand nine hundred seventy-five feet and the Act of Assembly namely the act of May first one thousand nine hundred five (Pamphlet Laws three hundred eighteen) under which said contract was made has been repealed and no provisions made for the completion of said road and the said county of Lawrence and township of Hickory has therefore paid for the use of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania on account of said road its full share on the original contract of twelve thousand five hundred feet therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the State Highway Department is hereby authorized to fulfill its contract with the county of Lawrence and township of Hickory in said county wherein the said county and township have advanced moneys toward the construction of a portion of the Eastbrook road in said township in excess of what thev were legally required to do and said department may finish as agreed upon without expense to said county and township so much of said Eastbrook road as was originally agreed to be constructed as aforesaid the expenditure not to exceed fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) which the said department may expend from any funds appropriated for state highways or for State-aid highways

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

VOL. 3. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, MAY 3, 1915. No. 52.

SENATE.

MONDAY, May 3, 1915.

The Senate met at 8 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Frank B. McClain) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas W. Davis, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, our kind Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for the privilege, the comfort, and the inspiration that comes to us in prayer. We thank Thee for that inward monitor, our conscience, given to us to be our guide. We thank Thee for Thy Word, which is a light unto our pathway and a lamp unto our feet. We pray Thee that we may so avail ourselves of the light that comes to us from within and also that which comes to us from Thy Word, that we may live at all times so that we may glorify Thy name, and live to the very best interests of our fellowmen. May we always have a conscience void of offense, both towards God and man, we ask in our Saviour's name. Amen.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. SALUS, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate bill No. 525 (House Bill No. 404), entitled:

An Act providing a system of government for boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs

And said bill having been read at length the third time,
On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the bill?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. MILLS. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. MAGEE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. C. A. SNYDER. Mr. President, I would know the purpose of this motion.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Bradford, Mr. Mills, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MILLS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. C. A. SNYDER. Mr. President, will the Senator from Bradford kindly state what the purpose of the motion is?

Mr. MILLS. Mr. President, my purpose in making this motion to postpone further consideration of this bill for the present is this: that a number of borough solicitors and borough officials in my district have requested me to take this action until they could further look into the merits of this bill. As the Senator from Schuylkill already knows, this is a comprehensive measure upon the Government of boroughs in the Commonwealth and should have the careful perusal of all persons both in and out of the Senate who are interested. I am waiting until I hear from those gentlemen before the bill is called up.

Mr. C. A. SNYDER. Mr. President, will the Senator inform me whether it can be taken up this week?

Mr. MILLS. Mr. President, I will inform the Senator from Schuylkill that I can see no reason why it should not be taken up.

Mr. C. A. SNYDER. Mr. President, will the Senator inform whether or not it will be taken up before the Senate adjourns this week?

Mr. MILLS. Mr. President, the bill will be upon the postponed calendar, and I understand under the rules of the Senate it can be called up at any time should this motion prevail.

And the question recurring.
Will the Senate agree to the motion?
It was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGF.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. C. A. SNYDER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resolve itself into Committee of the Whole for the purpose of special amendment.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The amendments were read as follows:

Amend section 3 on page 4, by striking out on line 30, the words, "eight hours" and inserting in lieu thereof, the words, "one school day."

Amend section 4, by striking out the entire section and insert the following: Section 4. (a) No minor under sixteen years of age shall be permitted to work in about or in connection with any establishment or in any occupation for more than fifty-four hours in any one week or more than ten hours in any day or before six o'clock in the morning of after eight o'clock in the evening of any day. In computing the maximum number of hours per day or per week permitted under this act the hours spent in school by said minors shall be considered as part of the working day or working week. Provided that during weeks in which a legal holiday occurs and is observed by an establishment any minor may be employed by such establishment during three days of such week for a longer period of time than is allowed by this act but no minor shall be permitted to work more than two hours overtime during any one of such three days nor more than the maximum hours per week specified in this act. The employment of such minors at any time other than as stated herein shall be deemed a violation of the provisions of this section unless it appears that such employment was to make up time lost on a previous day of the same week in consequence of the stopping of machinery upon which he was employed or dependent for employment but no stopping of machinery for less than thirty consecutive minutes shall justify such overtime employment nor shall such overtime employment be lawful unless a written report of the day and hours of its occurence and its duration is promptly sent to the Commissioner of Labor and Industry.

(b) A different apportionment of the hours of labor may be made for the sole purpose of making shorter days work for one day of the week but in no case shall the hours of labor exceed fifty-four in a week. Nor shall any minor be permitted to work before six o'clock in the morning or after eight in the evening of any day

Amend section 5 on page 6, by striking out on lines 3 and 4 the words, "of the following machines which for the purposes of this act are considered dangerous." and insert in lieu thereof the following: "machine in the following industries which machine may be found to be dangerous by the Department of Labor and Industry."

Also further amend section 5, by striking out on lines 22 and 23 the words, "nor in stripping, assorting or manufacturing tobacco."

Amend section 11 on page 10, by striking out the entire section and insert in lieu thereof the following: Section 11 Employment certificates shall be of two classes general employment certificates and vacation employment certificates. General employment certificates shall entitle the minor fourteen to sixteen years of age to work during the entire year. Vacation employment certificates may at the discretion of the school authorities be issued to children either below the age of fourteen years or between the ages of fourteen and sixteen years permitting suitable employment in the school districts in which they reside at occupations not prohibited by section 5, 6 and 7 of this act only during the hours or days in which the public schools are not in session or during vacations and such child may be lawfully employed notwithstanding any other provision contained in this act. All the condition and requirements prescribed in this act for the issuing of employment certificates shall apply to the issuing of vacation employment certificates except that in the issuing of vacation employment certificates the school record and all educational requirements shall be waived. Such vacation employment certificates shall be good only for the time stated therein and shall bear a conspicious printed statement of the dates upon which that may become effective and the words, "vacation employment certificate". They shall be of a color distinct from the regular employment certificates

Amend section 7 in line 1, after the word "under", by striking out the word "twelve" and inserting the word "ten"

Amend section 13 on page 10 by striking out on line 7 the word "six" and insert in lieu thereof the word "five" Also further amend section 13 by adding after the word "school" on line 13 the following: "Provided however, that these educational requirements shall not apply to foreign born children who have not resided in the United States prior to attaining the age of ten years."

Amend section 16 clause C. by striking out the entire line 15 and line 16 to and including the word "which"

Amend section 17 by adding on line 9 after the word "after" the words "knowledge of"

Amend on page 14 after section 19 by adding a new section numbered section 20

Section 20. Whenever the Board of Poor Directors of any poor district within this Commonwealth shall petition to the judge of the court of quarter sessions of the peace of the county in which said poor district is located that it is necessary for the proper support and maintenance of any family residing in said poor district because of the death or physical disability of the parents or of the father of such family for any healthy minor over 12 years of age of such family to become a wage earner the said judge shall consider said petition and if he approves of the same by endorsement thereon the said petition or copy thereof with the endorsement of said judge or copy of such endorsement shall be handed to the proper school authorities of the said poor district who shall ascertain if said minor has obtained the equivalent of a third-grade school education. If the said authorities find that the said minor has not obtained the equivalent of a third-grade school education the petition shall be returned to the clerk of the court of quarter sessions of the peace to be filed If the said school authorities find that the said minor has obtained the equivalent of a third-grade school education they will forward the said petition at once to the authorized school physician of said district who will ascertain if said minor is physicially able to perform the duties of the employment in which he intends to engage. If the said physician finds that he is not physicially able to perform the duties of the employment of which he intends to engage, the said petition with said information annexed thereto shall be filed by the said physician with the clerk of the court of quarter sessions of the peace. But if the said physician finds that such minor is physicially able to perform the duties of the employment in which he intends to engage the petition with said information shall be returned to the proper school authorities who will issue either a general or a vacation certificate of employment as the case may require and forward the same to the prospective employer of the said minor who may then lawfully employ said minor to work at any employment not prohibited by sections five, six and seven of this act.

Amend section 22 in line 18 by striking out the word "not"

Amend section 23 by striking all after the word "dollars" on line 8

Amend section 24 by striking out in line 7 the words "or police officer" and also by strking out in line 9 the word "criminal" also add on line 6 after the word inspector the word "or"

Amend section 2, page 3 by adding on line 1 after figure 2 "Except as hereinafter provided"

Amend by changing the numbers of present sections 20 to 21 21 to 22 22 to 23 23 to 24 24 to 25 25 to 26 26 to 27.

Amend section six by inserting in line one (1) after the word "minor" the phrase "Under eighteen years of age."

Amend section 6 by striking out the word "eight" in line four (4) and insert the word "ten" in lieu thereof.

Amend section 6 by adding after the word "day" at the end of line four (4), the following: "Provided, however, that the Industrial Board of the Department of Labor and Industry may, upon proper petition and hearing, authorize any telegraph or telephone company, lawfully transacting business in Pennsylvania, to employ as messengers minors of eighteen years of age or over between the hours of 8 P. M. and 6 A. M.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. C. A. SNYDER. Mr. President, so that the Senate may be properly informed as to what the amendments are, and the purpose, I deem it proper at this time to state as briefly as I can why the Senate of Pennsylvania should adopt these amendments. Before I do that, however, I wish to read from the Journal of the people instead of from the Journal of the House, in order to explain why I make the motion for special amendment, instead of a motion for unanimous consent, to go into a Committee of the Whole. And in order to relieve the gentlemen who gave the information to the Evening Ledger I have changed my mind so that this painful duty need not be imposed upon the gentleman from Schuylkill and others. When the famous 'pickling committee' of the Senate was forced to report the measure without amendment last week, the members of the Committee who forced Senator Snyder to bring the bill out onto the floor of the Senate agreed that he could offer the amendments to-night. They also agreed not to oppose the offering of the amendments. This, however, does not mean anything, as there are only 15 members of the committee, and under the rules of the Senate amendments cannot even be considered on third reading if any member of that body objects to their being presented. None of the members of the Committee will object tonight, but the Senators who have been leading the fight for the passage of the child labor bill before the Senate in the form in which it passed the House have said that it has been arranged that some member of the Senate will offer objections and thus prevent a fight being taken on the amendments desired by the manufacturers. Now for the information of that Journal you may state that, as usual, on the Child Labor case the truth has not been stated, because so far no motion has been made to go into Committee of the Whole for the purpose of general amendment. The interest in this bill, it seems to me, to be somewhat multiplied not so much on account of what is in the bill but for the sponsors of the bill. With that I have nothing to deal with at this time, except for the information of the people and this is a people's movement. We went through a people's movement two years ago, but it seems to me that this people's movement has been continued to to-night and so that it may be better understood, it strikes me that it is only proper that the whole Senate should know what the famous pickling committee did in order to facilitate the voting upon this bill, and whoever reported the proceedings of that Committee, it strikes me, he should have reported them correctly instead of leaving the reporter get his news from the editor who overwrites it and who has it printed.

Now, if I remember correctly, at the first meeting of the Committee on Judiciary Special there was no efforts made to keep the bill in Committee by anybody in favor of the amendments, and I am not violating any secret when I say that in that Committee there were nine votes for the amendments and six against them, and nobody who was in favor of the amendments asked that the bill be kept in the Committee. At the next meeting, for the information of the Senate another vote was taken on the amendments and at that time the amendments were voted for by a vote of eight to six and nobody that was in favor of the amendments asked that it be kept in Committee. And so, gentlemen, whoever was in favor of keeping the bill in Committee for two weeks was not in favor of the amendments, because the bill could have been reported out as amended. However, the Chairman of the Committee has always been, and I hope we will always be in a condition of mind to render every Senator upon this floor a due courtesy and a privilege when it is requested, and when that privilege was asked that the bill stay in Committee until such time as Senators could perhaps be seen and persuaded, if it was not satisfactory, why the Chairman of that Committee at the request of a dear friend of that Committee permitted it to stay there and be pickled unil that time and he was not in favor of the bill as it was committeed either. Now then, so far as the Chairman of the Committee is concerned, and so far as the Senator from Schuylkill is concerned, I wish to impress upon the mind of the Senators that he simply expresses when he favors these amendments, the will of his constituents without regard to whether it favors the manufacturers or any particular interest in the Commonwealth. I appear not for the manufacturers when I make the plea for the adoption of these amendments, I assure you. I appear rather for the thousands of boys and girls who work, and, by the way, I have not a reputation of being an uplifter either,—who work for a living and when they work for a living they work so that the families that they belong to may be kept together and that they may not be committed to the tender mercies of the juvenile courts wherever established, and, if it is not established that their children may not be sent to Darlington, or Glen Mills, or to Huntingdon. Now, let me say to you first, that I am going to to take a little time in saying what these amendments mean. The principal amendment is first on the school day. The proponents of the bill say that the boy or girl who works in the factory should have the right to go to school eight hours out of the fifty-one hours that they are permitted to work, which means really that any boy or girl who works in the factory, that he or she under this bill loses two days because there are no eight hour schools, which means a boy or girl who works in a factory would work only on Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday, and would have to go to school on Thursday or Friday, because on Saturday they could not work. Now, then, that is hardly fair to the boy and it is not fair to the girl. True, it is said that where there are no continuation schools, and I will be frank to say that so far as I have been able to learn, there are none in Pennsylvania, and this bill would not apply in that case, and it would not matter; but it would matter, gentlemen of the Senate, if the boy or girl is only permitted, under sixteen, to work fifty-one hours so far the talk about Philadelphia but if down in the busy City of Carlisle, a telegram, if this bill is adopted and goes into force after January 1, 1916, a telegram is sent to somebody in Carlisle and comes there after half-past eight o'clock, the telegraph company must have some big husky boy, a man not a boy, over twenty-one years of age, to deliver that telegram. Of course, Carlisle, Harrisburg or any other small village in Pennsylvania, is full of pitfalls for the young. Over in New York City, a city which any man can go through without having a guide, there the law is fixed that a man in order to be a messenger he must be twenty-one years of age to deliver messages after ten o'clock at night, but a boy, under twenty-one years, is permitted to deliver messages in New York City up to ten o'clock at night. After ten o'clock he must be twenty-one years of age. In Pennsylvania, we are going at such a fast pace that to deliver a message in Hummelstown after eight o'clock you must have a man twenty-one years of age to do it. I submit to the Senate of Pennsylvania that these provisions are not sound provisions for the State of Pennylvania and the Senate should not vote for them.

Coming back to the fifty-four hour provisions, if I am correctly informed, gentlemen of the Senate, there are about thirty thousand boys and girls under the age of sixteen employed in the wool and textile mills of this State. There are about ten thousand boys and girls under the age of sixteen, making about thirty thousand boys and girls. As I have said before, I am very much concerned about these boys and girls and for this reason I am only going to speak of facts I know of my own knowledge. There are families in the County of Schuylkill, and in the City of Pottsville whose livelihood depends upon the earnings of the boy and girl under sixteen years of age. Oh, it is argued, it will adjust itself and that these boys and girls will be retained after the first blush of excitement. I believe, in Massachusetts, it has been tried out for years and the majority of the Senate reported after investigation in 1914, after the adoption of the bill in 1913, that in order to try out the bill and to see whether it would not work out better one or more years should be granted before a repeal should be presented to the Senate. The minority of the Senate reported it should be repealed for the reason that in that State thirty-two boys and girls were suspended and no trace has been found of those boys and girls in the public schools where they are intended to be after they are thrown out of these factories in the State of Pennsylvania. Oh, it is argued the State will take care of these boys and girls. I am not going to give you an uplift argument. I am not going to talk to you about those boys and girls; I am not going to talk to you how they appeal to my affection and my heart, I am going to talk to you about facts that exist. I was in Schuylkill County this morning and whatever may be said about the county which I have the privilege to represent, let me say to you it is intensely human; it is so human that in every pain and every anguish and every desire for betterment someone responds in Schuylkill County to help; and I was in Court in Schuylkill County when nine little boys between the ages of eight and twelve were brought before the Court for the purpose of punishment because they had broken into a freight car to get various things in order to enjoy themselves and every one of those boys had a father and mother who were so poor that they could not come to Court to plead for them. The youngest was twelve years of age, one of them was only in this country for one year with his father and his mother was in Russia. Now, that boy was permitted to run around the Streets of Shenandoah because he had no one to look after him. If that boy, he was only ten years old, of course, but if these boys have grown up, or will grow up and have the right to work in the factory and become somebody, as they will have to under this bill, everybody has a fair chance—not a fair chance but a double chance of being sent to Glen Mills or to Huntingdon Reformatory and a girl to Drlington. I want to say to you that I have been in Court in Schuylkill County in the last six weeks, and a father was brought into Court for stealing a ham and in order to justify himself he said "I had two boys working in the factory, working in the mines, rather picking slate, but the collieries no work, me no work, me had to steal, me stole a ham so that the children could live." If there had been a factory in McAdoo where the two boys could have been working in the factory and the factories working regularly that man would not have been compelled to steal the ham in order that the children might live. Another miner was brought into court two weeks ago on acount of stealing coal. He had a boy fifteen years old working, picking slate in the colliery, and it was adduced by testimony that that man came to the mines for two weeks with nothing but boiled potato peelings in his can and the only money that came into that house was the money earned by him and the little boy picking slate. The man was sentenced to jail, of course, and then, under this great parole law, which I think together with the juvenile court business is more uplifting than anything else to-day more in the newspapers than on the statute books.—if he had not been paroled under this law, that boy would have been allowed to work to keep his mother. I think these boys and girls are earning in the factories no less than five dollars a week. If there are two boys and two girls that means forty dollars, that will pay the rent, coal, and keep the family together. Those boys and girls will grow up into useful manhood. There isn't a Senator on this floor, I could name them by name, I have spoken to every one, who did not work before fourteen years of age. Of course, it was said they would be much bigger men if they had not worked before fourteen. I would say not one of them would be here Senators today, because they would not have had enough get-up about themselves to get here. Let me say to you unless to get here. Let me say to you unless you instil habits of industry into a boy or girl before they are sixteen, unless you keep them employed even in school or at work, that boy or girl will amount to very little afterwards. It is said it is too young. Well, I don't know about that. If you read the war news, and everybody reads some in these days, the great things emblazened across the pages of things performed, of meritorious and heroic things performed, were not by great brawny men; a boy the other day, ten years of age, was decorated with the cross of the legion of honor because of great meritorious service. In Russia a girl only nine years of age, who had served with a regiment for six weeks was voted a pension for life, and her father and mother were given a home so that she could live, because of her service. Bless you, the war of 1860, was fought by one-third of the men under sixteen years of age. Out of the two millions seven hundred and eighty-five thousand men, eight hundred and forty thousand were only sixteen years of age, and yet they say if a boy works before he is sixteen years of age, he is an anemic, he will not be able to do anything. They were able enough to go down below Gettysburg and defend the Constitution of the United States, that you and I could be here and legislate so that boys of their age could not work before they were sixteen years of age. Why, Sir, in the United States, under the late census there are thirty-five thousand boys and girls who were married under the age of fourteen, and under the blessed laws of this Commonwealth and other Commonwealths four thousand have been divorced out of the thirty-five thousand. This Senate is going to pass this law because it is a humane measure. You say the manufacturer has no business to throw the boy out, but the manufacturer will do it. There are two Senators, who, upon this floor, and I am looking into their faces, one will suspend and discharge one hundred from his factory, and the other seventy-five. Why? Because he cannot use them under the hours they are working. "What is to become of those boys and girls?" I have said to one of them. "Why,'" he said, "that is not up to me." "Who is it up to?" "To the community in which they live." "What kind of a community?" The hard working community without hearts where every man must earn a living. Who will take care of these boys? The humane society, the mother's pension act. Under the mother's pension act a mother gets sixty-five cents a month, and the bill that gives the mother sixty-five cents a month will not allow them to get one dollar more. In the State of Pennsylvania, there are one hundred and seventy-nine thousand boys and girls, according to the census of 1910, in the State of Pennsylvania, between the ages of six and fourteen, who do not go to school. "Oh," you say, "those are statistics, and they can be handled any way you want." Put them in school if you please, but they are not in the school now. In the City of Philadelphia, where the gentlemen whom I love come from, there are sixteen thousand boys and girls who have no school room to go to. There are several thousand more out of the factories because you are going to send them to continuation schools, but there are none there, but you are going to send them under this act, I don't know where. The two Senators said they are going to discharge the boys and they don't know what is going to become of them. Now, there is Mr. Stetson, Mr. Folwell and Mr. Brown, down in that Folwell factory, where three generations have been working, father and son and grandson. The boys and girls in Mr. Folwell's factory you are going to turn out. Somebody must take care of them, but you must remember you are throwing away the chances of those boys to become efficient, to get the cunning hand and the cultivated brain. You say you are going to cultivate their brain, but where are they going to learn the cunning of the hand. A boy over sixteen years of age is not going to be a messenger boy. There are employed in Harrisburg about ten boys and under this bill those boys will no longer be employed. Ninety percent. of the six hundred boys in the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company are train despatchers, auditors, and supervisors on the roads. Ninety per cent. become fixtures on the Pennsylvania Road and under this act every one will have to be discharged, and no more will be a messenger boy employed over sixteen because when they become sixteen he does not want to be a messenger boy, he is too big for that. In Mr. Brown's factory the same condition exists. In Mr. Stetson's factory on the first of January there was a distribution of cash dividends to all the boys who worked in that factory and some below sixteen years of age. You are going to take that away from them, you are going to throw them out of the public schools because they do not go there, half of them. One hundred and seventy-five thousand do not go there these days. Then the uplift society must look after them. Judge Bonniwell, of Philadelphia, said, I said if there ever was a farce enacted in any court of justice, it was the juvenile court in the way they are handled, but the law says how it shall be done, and, of course, he carries out the law. Warden McKenty told the Appropriation Committee when they were up in the penitentiary,—a fine place, too, for the Senators to go, it may be a reminder where these boys may yet go,—Warden McKenty said "for heaven's sake do not pass this bill. It will prohibit a boy under sixteen years of age from working, and they are coming in here faster than we have room for them." Against that all you say it is a humane movement, you say it is for the benefit of the State, look at Massachusetts. Yes, look at Massachusetts, if you please. The greatest industrial and the worst industrial strike that has ever been forced upon people. Who works in Massachusetts? I will tell you who works. The Canadian, the Greek, the Hungarian and the Slav. Those are the only men who work. They say their children can't work and become loafers and the juvenile courts are full of children in Boston, where it was shown that so many newspaper boys were thrown out of employment because they could not distribute newspapers under the law. And yet the desire for work was so keen upon them that they began to sell newspapers and they had to establish a newspaper court to convict boys under the age of twelve years for selling newspapers and Johnny Jones and Johnny Smith are arraigned before this court and your high-brow juvenile court officers make records against Johnny Jones and Johnny Smith and give their records to every employer that they were once in the juvenile court. Every Reformatory institution, every prison is getting fuller every day of boys, due in a large measure to this humanitarian cry, "No boy shall work." Let me tell you, when want and desolation stack about the families of the poor in this State, when they find out in northern Pennsylvania, where they have a shoe factory and stocking factory or knitting mill that their boys and girls will go out under this act, and they do not know it yet, those boys who will suffer, I hope the names of the Senators who will vote for this bill will be graven upon the hand of every child who is seeking for work, so that when work will be denied them that he will know why he cannot get work. Let me say to you I know what want is, I know where it stalks over the hills and vales of Schuylkill where large families have only been working for two or three days a week for the last six months. If it were not for the little shirt factories and stocking factories in that community there would be starvation as it is in Belgium, and no American hand to relieve it because the Pennsylvania Senate says "you cannot work, you cannot enter anywhere where you can get labor." That is the proposition, and it is no sentiment. Let me say to you, gentlemen, that you have passed a law in this Senate that a woman, it matter not whether she be ten or twenty or thirty, can work seventy-three hours a day, passed this Senate and went to the House. You passed a law in this Senate,—when you talk about humane laws, when you opened the doors to divorce and a man can come into this State from Japan, Kamchatka, and live here and after six months get a divorce. Do you know who is in favor of this law? I will tell you. "The humanitarians," you say. Well when these statues were erected in front of the capitol and there was a great deal of talk about their beauty and that some of their beauty should be shut off from the eyes of the public, Mr. Bernard told me he said "Strange to say, my friend, that of the thousand of letters I have had about these statues, I did not receive a letter from a woman, they were all from men, who are setting up their ideals of what a woman ought to see." And just so with this law. It is not from the men and women who must work, Oh, no, it is from the men and the women who have gone beyond that point, to whom ease and luxury have come and they want to do something for their fellowmen and they want to say "Here we have made it easy for you to work, we have made it easy for your son and daughter to become idlers in this Commonwealth. But, on the other hand let me read to you a little from an uplifter, and he is a part of that journal that seems to think child labor is a great thing in this century, and who is called forth upon every occasion, and this is what he said: "I believe in poverty"—this is a part of the auxilliary of the Philadelphia Ledger, who I believe is spreading the gospel for child labor,—"I believe in poverty as the richest experience that can come to a boy." Just think of it! The Ladies' Home Journal, that uplift paper that goes all over the United States advertising pink pajamas for men who do not work and cucumber dinners for men who do work, says that the greatest experience and richest experience that can come to a boy is poverty. Now this is an uplift paper, and by the way, in order to supplement that we have that beautiful picture on the other side "Suffer little children to come unto Me, for of such is the kingdom of Heaven." Consistency Thou are a jewel. It is the desire of men who want to place this law upon the statute books to say "we placed it there. This is a work in the interest of the children of this Commonwealth not to work." The people most interested in twilight sleep,—and we read about it in the Ladies' Home Journal,—are not the sufferers of Child Labor, Oh, no, it is by men who want to do these things and always attribute it to somebody else, like the man who has lived a life, regardless of how he has lived, and accumulated a rich treasury on earth, and then, before he dies, he erects for himself a beautiful monument so that he can see it himself, somewhere in church, and say, "I did it for propitiation to the God for things I should have done in earlier youth." They do not say anything about their getting forgiveness for their sins. Oh, no, but they want to establish a little God and religion of their own. Moral ethics,—that is something, and vanity, enters into this a great deal.

Now the State of Pennsylvania did not get rich, did not get powerful because of legislation of this sort. Let me tell you another thing, gentlemen: If the boys and girls who work could talk to you they would say that they want to have the opportunity to work and help the widow and mother and sickly father, "Oh, no," you will say, we can't do that. We will not let you do it in the Senate of Pennsylvania." Let me tell you, you pass a compensation bill, although my friend, Senator Sensenich, thinks you will not, better forget that—but you pass a compensation bill in which you say that no man who has a large family—moral, do not have large families,—no man who has a large family shall be employed in any industrial works because when an employer looks for a man he will ask under that bill, "Have you a large family, because if you have a large family, I am not going to keep your boys and girls until they are sixteen years of age." If he has ten children, under that bill,—I am going to vote for it, so that you understand, I am going to be right somewhere as the uplift movements go. I am going to vote for it, and yet you say in that bill to a man with a family of ten children, "you cannot get any work because an employer wants a family of two children, because, if anything happens to the man of the house, he needs to take care of two children until they are sixteen years of age. That is good arithmetic and good business. Then you are going to pass a coal tax law and put a tax upon the coal and make coal dearer. You say to the poor man who is stiff, perhaps, and blind, and under this compensation bill you cannot be employed and you say to him "we are going to raise the tax upon coal and the operator he has a way of working that out, and he puts it upon the coal. There are two boys sixteen years of age, who work in the factory at ten dollars a month to keep the family together. You say, "No, we will pass a law so that they cannot work." That way it works out and you cannot get away from it. I am not talking for the manufacturers. When I was a boy I lived near a family who came from Germany. They had five boys and every one was under the age of fourteen. They lived in a house with but two rooms in it, they had no carpets upon the floor and no chairs in the kitchen, they had benches and had one table and every meal they sat around that table with a bowl in the center. Not even an oil cloth upon it, and all ate out of that bowl. Every one of those boys went to work at the colliery and today by reason of their industry and thrift one of those boys is a general manager of a railroad out west, another is superintendent of a railroad there, another is a good lawyer, and another lives in another city of this Commonwealth, is a prosperous business man and when his father died at the age of sixty-five, he left not a fortune, but a substantial earning of thirty thousand dollars to that family, all from 1878 on. Why? Because he had the privilege of letting his boys and his family and himself work together. Under this bill if they would come here after the first of January those boys would soon be in the juvenile court, those boys would be looked after by some high brow association with a record and let me tell you you can get a record in the juvenile court quicker than anywhere else. There was some reason for this excitement during the last two weeks, and let me say to you I do not describe it to the importance of this bill, either, but there was another reason and that was the reason of right stirring in each man's breast. Truth loves a quiet rest and a quiet breast, and conscience was stirred. And you know the story of Elijah, how the wind came and the mountain was rent and there was nothing; how the earth quaked and there was nothing; how the storm came and still nothing was heard, and after that the sill voice. Every Senator here who worked before he was sixteen that voice said to him, "Here this law would have prevented me from helping my father and my mother and my brother and to-day, instead of being in the Senate of Pennsylvania, I might be in some court, because of the opportunity not given me to work. There is a pathetic story about Frances Willard, who for the first time made the trip to the Yosemite Valley and looking over the trees of the beautiful forest, broke into tears and somebody asked her "Why these tears, Miss Willard?" She said "these tears are because the blind will never be able to behold such a scene as this on earth." Let me say to you, in after years, when you men who vote for this bill after it will become a law when some boy will stand up in some court of record and say "I did not have the opportunity to work when I was a boy, I was prohibited from working under the law, and to-day I stand here a victim of the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Let me say to you, gentlemen of the Senate of Pennsylvania, as a body, you ought to consider well and much more than any other body that had this bill in charge, and I am going to read this so that you may understand what I say and you will remember it, the privileges of a Senator are very important and the privileges of a Senator are to be respected. As to the rights, privileges, prerogatives and duties of the Senate, I am old fashioned enough to believe that they are paramount and above every other department of the government of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. As we all know, a Senate has been a part of the government of Republics from the earliest time, and history records that the Roman Senate was perhaps the most imperious and yet the most important body of government that has stood for law and order since law has been established. It is the only body in all the departments of government that has continuous life and effective readiness for action. Where ever a Senate exists in any government, it has contained the first statesmen, lawyers and soldiers of the State, and has a knowledge of affairs and traditions of authority and achievements, and of sustained and concerted purposes, such as temporary office holders, councils and meetings of the people which come together for a short time cannot possibly have. For that reason, in our Commonwealth the origin of the Senate is to be found in the Governors council of colonial times, and ever since then we have been used to having the acts of the popular branch of the Legislature reviewed by the Senate. This position has been attained after long and continuous experiment, and even at so early a date as the formation of the Constitution of the United States, when I dare say, the people were as much concerned for the rights of the common man as they are in our day when so many self-appointed prophets of the people stand at the Legislative doors proclaiming their commandments as the only true doctrine for the people. At that early period the Senate was established to represent not only all the people, but more particularly that part of the people which possessed wealth and consideration. Pennsylvania in the formation of its government was one of the last and that only after investigation and consideration of all the governments of the colonies to adopt a second or upper house known as the Senate. Ever since then the Senate of Pennsylvania has been a defense of the people against all manner of assault, and its proceedings have been thought to be free from external influences, and every Senator untrammeled in the rights conferred upon him. Now for some reason or other, the spirit of Executive encroachment has been breathed upon us. This, however, is not a new departure in the government of the people of the United States, as the history of the last decade will show, beginning with the altruistic attempts in Wisconsin, followed by some of the more Western States, reaching its climax perhaps, in the most pronounced assault upon the constitutional rights of the people by the invasion of the Chief Executive into the jurisdictions of the House and Senate at Washington, in a manner unheard of in the annals of our history. And it strikes me that we are to-night witnessing a like intrusion in a lesser degree a similar performance in this Commonwealth, not in the person of the Executive, but in the champions of the Executive's will in the persons of the two senior Senators from the City of Philadelphia whose zealous activities upon the floor of this Chamber has been in glaring contrast to all that is vital to the rights of all the people for all the time. In order to show how far a field these gentlemen have gone in carrying out the so called purpose of his Excellency, and contrary to the spirit which animated the adoption of the customs, traditions and laws of England by this Country, as the fundamental law of this government, let me read to you a resolution passed by the House of Commons on December 17th, 1783, only a few years prior to the framing of the Constitution of the United States, and subsequent to the Proclamation of the Declaration of Independence from the town hall of the city from which these gentlemen come:

"To report any opinion or pretended opinion of his Majesty (meaning George III) upon any bill or other proceeding depending in either House of Parliament, within a view to influencing the votes of the Members, is a high crime and misdemeanor, derogatory to the Honor of the Crown, a breach of the fundamental privilege of Parliament, and subversive of the Constitution of the country."

Reading this with the story of the Liberty Bell ringing in our ears, and the sufferings of Valley Forge, committed to memory, as well as the crucial moments while the Constitution of the United States was being adopted, how can we do otherwise than register our protest to this encroachment upon the rights of the Senate of Pennsylvania and in defense of the liberties that were transmitted to us by our forefathers.

Are Senators just to become mere local agents to secure offices, fish, maps, etc., for constituents? Are we to permit a few Senators, who chance to come from the most populous district of the Commonwealth, to do our thinking, and to graft laws upon our Statute books inimicable to the welfare of the people of this Commonwealth? Has any Senator upon this floor heard of any other reason why this bill should be exacted into a law save that it is the will of his Excellency? Surely a Senator of Pennsylvania has fallen from the seats of the mighty if he is to become a mere automaton upon a Senatorial Board. If this be so, verily I say unto you people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, "come to Harrisburg and see how you are governed."

As for myself, I believe in the traditions, in the customs and the laws of this Commonwealth, I hold to the faith that the Constitution of Pennsylvania, with its three departments, the Legislative, The Executive and the Judiciary, working jointly together are necessary for the perpetuation of those principles which stand for representative government. I for one will not give to any man, or any set of men, the power to cast my vote upon any proposition that involves what I believe, a fundamental principle of government, and one that is necessary for the transmission of constitutional liberty to generations unborn, regulated by the legislature, approved by the Executive, and confirmed by the Judiciary, of this Commonwealth.

Let me say to you gentlemen, in presenting these amendments, we ask for the constitutional right of every boy and girl who is willing to work in order that he or she may stamp upon the community the effect of her endeavors to build up this state. Now let me say to you in conclusion, it has been urged and strongly proclaimed in the newspapers that the Chairman of the Judiciary Special Committee represents the manufacturer. He does not represent the manufacturer in the person of Joseph Grundy any more than you do. The activities of Mr. Grundy I find upon investigation were altogether at the request of the combined manufacturers in this state. The conditions in his mill are such as cannot be compared to any other in the United States so far as health and sanitation and the welfare of every child person in that factory are concerned. The tenements around him are model and the conditions in his city are better than any other in the state of the Union so far as factory conditions are concerned and in his factory, let me say to you, employes in his factory, numbering over a thousand there are only ninety boys and girls employed under the age of sixteen and yet it seems to me the strictures cast upon the gentlemen who represents the manufacturers of Pennsylvania are as uncalled for as they are unjust and I simply say to you and make this statement to justify the position the gentleman has taken. For myself, if I have unwittingly or in my rage done aught to offend I surely desire to redeem myself to your friendly peace and I wish to say after you vote upon this bill, I surely hope and pray for each Senator a peace that is greater than the earthly dignity and still and quiet conscience.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President and members of the Senate, after hearing my learned lawyer friend from Schuylkill county mention that this bill was going to be enacted for the purpose of hurting working children of the State rather than helping them, I want to say that ever since I have been in the Senate every proposition that came to Harrisburg for the purpose of helping our working children and for their welfare has been opposed by some part of the manufacturers of this State, and usually they were championed by my friend from Schuylkill county. It seems to me that it is about time that some of us have the courage to come out and say to the people and to our working children under what fair and decent restriction they could be employed and it seems to me that now is the opportune time for the Senate of Pennsylvania to act on the working children proposition. I am not going to take up a whole lot of the time of the Senate in answering that splendid speech of my friend from Schuylkill, except to say that the Governor of this State probably has handled more children than any other man within its borders. This bill was drawn after being considered from time to time for the last five years. This bill was drawn and presented in the House and passed the House by one hundred and seventy-eight to eight. That is what the House thought of this bill, with the Governor's approval after all the years of experience he has had with our children, in education and working. I would just like to read in conclusion the report of the labor and industrial department in this state as to what they are doing in other states and then we leave it to the Senate to decide if it is not time that we should do something to compare with the other surrounding states in the way of working children. The report says:

STATES IN WHICH THE 8-HOUR LAW FOR MINORS BETWEEN THE AGES OF 14 AND 16 YEARS IS IN FORCE.

There are altogether 21 states in which the 8-hour law is in force, among which are New York, New Jersey, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Massachusetts.

AGE LIMIT FOR NIGHT MESSENGER SERVICE.

In New York, Massachusetts, New Jersey and 5 other states, no person under the age of 21 years may be employed as night messenger. This service has proven very satisfactory in New York City. There are a number of other states in which the age limit for this service is 18 years.

AGE OF CHILDREN ENGAGED IN STREET TRADES.

The average age of children engaged in trades in 21 states is 12 years. In 2 of these states an age limit of 14 years is required. The Pennsylvania State Editorial Association at its meeting in Harrisburg, which was held since the legislature convened, adopted a resolution endorsing the 12-year age limit for newsboys, and presented a copy of this resolution to the Governor. This association is made up of the publishers of the leading daily newspapers of the various counties of this Commonwealth.

OPPOSITION TO CHILD LABOR BILL.

There are in Pennsylvania more than 27,000 manufacturers. There are in the Manufacturers' Association of Pennsylvania, which association is the only active opponent of this bill, 2,600 members less than 10% of all the manufacturers in the state There are in the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association quite a number of manufacturers who are either entirely in favor of this bill, or not actively opposed to it.

MEDICAL OPINION ON THE NUMBER OF HOURS OF EMPLOYMENT OF CHILDREN.

The question of employment of children has attracted a large amount of attention before the medical profession throughout the country. In June, 1914, the American Medical Association passed a resolution endorsing an 8-hour day for children under 16 years of age. The National Associations of practically all the other recognized schools of medicine have gone on record as endorsing the 8-hour day for the employment of children under 16 years of age. Nearly all of the county medical societies of Pennsylvania have passed resolutions endorsing the 8-hour day for the employment of children. It is unquestionably the consensus of medical opinion that 8 hours is as long as it is advisable to allow minor children under 16 years of age to work in any one day. The Governor has consented to the 9-hour day, as provided in this bill, because it provides 8 hours per week for children to be in school.

CONTINUATION SCHOOLS.

The value of such a vocational educational arrangement as is made in this bill has been thoroughly proven in this and other countries. In Cincinnati the manufacturers voluntarily joined together and established continuation schools, paying the entire expense, and also paying the children wages while at school. Such great corporations as the Westinghouse Electric, Pennsylvania Railroad, New York Central, the United States Steel Corporation, and others of similar character, are in like manner, at their own expense, carrying on such schools, paying for teachers, supplies, rooms, etc., and the wages of the children while at school. This is done by those manufacturers by reason of the fact that it is a paying proposition.

In Germany, where all children between 14 and 17 years of age go to two periods of school per week, each of three hours' duration, the manufacturers are a unit in claiming that these schools have done more than any other one element of German government to produce the skilled workmen which has enabled Germany to forge to the head as an industrial nation.

In the bill under consideration, the manufacturers get the advantage of the increased skill of their children, while at the same time no additional financial burden is placed upon them by reason of the fact that they neither have to support the school nor pay the children during the time they are in the school.

EFFECT OF THE ENFORCEMENT OF THE 8-HOUR LAW IN MASSACHUSETTS.

Letters were received from practically every manufacturer in the State of Massachusetts, one-third of these manufacturers going on record as saying that the 8-hour day worked no hardship in their industries by making it necessary to employ adults one set of hours and children another set of hours. The majority of the other manufacturers stated that it was not profitable to employ children under 16 years of age. The number of children at work between 14 and 16 years of age in Boston has decreased from 4,800 in January, 1914, to 3,370 in January, 1915. The children who are not at work are in school. The Boston High schools have shown an unusual increase of 1,400 this year. The superintendent's report will show that as against 2,298 children between 14 and 16 years of age out of employment and not at school in December, 1913, there are now only 526 not accounted for. Of these, 215 are cases not yet investigated by the truant officers, leaving a balance of only 311 who have not been returned to school. The increase in the children of all ages at school in the State shows the effects of these laws. In 1911-1912, the increase was 8,000; in 1912-1913, 10,000; in 1913-1914, 19,000.

NECESSITY OF EMPLOYING CHILDREN BETWEEN 14 AND 16 YEARS OF AGE.

Two investigations of the necessity of employing children between 14 and 16 years of age have been made; one by the United States Government, and one by the State of New York. These investigations show that, giving a basis of $2.50 a week per person in families of the employed children, only one-third of the children under 16 years of age were working because of necessity. This disposes of the argument that children work to support widowed mothers or helpless fathers.

PUBLIC HEARINGS HELD ON THIS BILL.

The Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association has had 5 public hearings on this bill, either before the Governor or before committees of the House and Senate. Their demands before the Governor were that the bill be changed in three particulars. The first was that prosecutions by private persons be eliminated. The second was that in communities where schools such as this bill provides have not been established, the employer be permitted to work the children 9 hour per day without being penalized for failure to send them to school. The third was that the hours of children under 16 years of age be increased to 10 hours per day and 54 hours per week. The Governor yielded entirely on the first two propositions, eliminating prosecutions by private persons, and inserting a proviso in the bill that where there is no school the employer will not be penalized for failing to send the children to school. On the third proposition, as to the length of the working day, he took a stand of middle ground between the demand of the Manufacturers' Association and the Pennsylvania Child Labor Association. The Child Labor Association demanded a 8-hour day, and 48 hours per week. The Manufacturers' Association demanded 10 hours a day, and 54 hours per week. The Governor met them half way by agreeing upon a 9-hour day, and 51 hours per week.

Gentlemen, everything has been granted to the manufacturers that was reasonable and fair to grant. If we are going to do anything for our working children in this state, and as I have said before, every time there is an attempt made to improve their conditions somebody comes along with these fire brand speeches and tries to scare the Senate to death and the result is that nothing is done. The manufacturers at my earnest request refused to grant them a half hour off a ten hour day two years ago, showing that there is no intention on the part of the manufacturers to grant the children any request at all that is being made in their interest. Out of a total of thirty-six thousand manufacturers in this State some twenty-six hundred belong to this association and when every Senator around here has been made to believe that all the manufacturers want this thing. I represent a manufacturing district, Mr. President, that probably has as many manufacturing establishments in it as most any other district in this state, and out of all the manufacturers I have had only one request not to pass this bill, all the other manufacturers are satisfied with the bill and it seems to me it is time for this Senate to act.

Mr. JENKINS. Mr. President, it is entirely evident that this proposed act is a compromise act and when the zealous, able, and eloquent Senator spoke aganist this proposed act he was speaking against the public opinion of this age. As has been well said by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Vare, twenty-one states of this Union have adopted a child labor act in advance of the one now proposed. In those twenty-one states the labor of children is confined to eight hours per day and among those States are the great industrial competitors of Pennsylvania, New York, Ohio, Illinois, and Massachusetts. Now the child labor association wanted but eight hours a day in Pennsylvania. The children today in Pennsylvania work ten hours per day. That is in great contrast to our neighbors. This bill is a compromise, it supplies the difference. Compromise is always the essence of good politics. It is the utilized measure of every prudent statesmanship. it is the foundation stone of government. Sixteen years is the limit fixed upon because it is a reasonable limit. There were arbitrary sections in this bill. Eighteen years is arbitrarily fixed upon as the age prior to which no boy may be a fireman, engineer or chauffeur or engaged in certain dangerous occupations. Fourteen years is the age below which no one may work at all. Sixteen years is fixed upon as the age at which boys and girls may do the work of adults, because it is the concensus of medical opinion that by that time they have passed all the dangers of puberity by both boys and girls. Then they are fit to compete with adults in labor, and they resemble adults in everything excepting growth, time and experience. Now the children of Pennsylvania are entitled before they reach this age of competition with adults to a period of preparation. A period that shall fit them for the work. They should have conservation of energy in the early years. We take the greatest care of our streams and forests, we are solicitous about them, spend time, money, sympathy and other things. We have sympathy for the lower animals, for our dogs, cats and horses, why should we be indifferent about the welfare of our youth. Let us see to it that the future mothers and fathers of Pennsylvania shall profit owing to the fact that our boys and girls are not stunted in mental faculities and do not have the seeds of premature decay implanted in their bodies by too early and too lasting work at tasks that should only belong to an adult as far as duration at least is concerned. Now the manufacturers say "it does not matter one mite, we are indifferent to the children;" they can do without the child, but the child cannot do without them, and what they do with reference to this bill and the agitation that they have pursued arises out of the love for the child. That is a matter very creditable to them. That love of theirs for the child may help in the solution of some of the problems that this legislation brings about; If all the manufacturers of Pennsylvania are so solicitous for the welfare of the child. The railroads and the steam mills kill people in the course of their business unavoidably and if in a suit for damages they can defend by a plea of negligence of a fellow workman or risks of employment or contributory negligence on the part of the decedent, they are entirely indifferent about the welfare of the orphan children, whom they make destitute. I say to these Pennsylvania Manufacturers that it is high time that they are concerned about the children; why is it that they show this solicitude? Perhaps they have been closer to the child than the other manufacturers. Let me tell you gentlemen of the Senate that it is a fact that the factories rely upon child labor. You say it is the present we are concerned about. My eloquent friend from Schuylkill seems to think that it is an act aimed to prevent child labor. In dwelling upon that he effectually misinterprets the spirit. It is true it aims to prevent child labor in preventing a child from laboring like a horse; like an adult with whom he is not able to compete; but it does not prevent any child in the Commonwealth from the age of fourteen and after sixteen up to the full limit of nine hours, and I believe if this act is passed those children who do not go to school will find employment. I do not believe the Pennsylvania Manufacturers will be so indifferent to the interests of the children as to refuse them labor. I believe they will change their schedule of hours to employ children who may work nine hours. Now this is a universal question. It has occurred in England and Germany. They managed the thing very well over there. In England the school children are divided into two groups, one goes to school in the morning and works in the factory in the afternoon but no child is worked over nine hours. The other group is worked vice versa and so all the children are employed and all the children go to school. Now, I have great confidence in the intelligence, the adaptibility, the ingenuity and patriotism, of the manufacturers of Pennsylvania, and I think they will work out a proper solution of this question. I think we are just as able to take care of our children of tender years as the people of Europe. I have not heard anybody refuse work for nine hours a day for the child over sixteen years of age. The only person who has intimated it will not give them work has been these very manufacturers. I feel confident they will get work. Suppose these children cannot find work, what remains to be done? I say there is nothing else, the State must take care of them. When the public companies of Pennsylvania pension the aged of their employes, all the large railroads, the telephone companies, and the other large employers of labor give a pension to their faithful employes who have been with them in the failing years of service, that their declining days may not be in poverty, and this Senate has passed a pension bill for state employees who have had long terms of service and have been agents of the Commonwealth. Now I would not extinguish a single spark of gratitude in a man's breast but let me assure you that far better than pensioning the aged is to give attention to childhood so that the boys and girls of Pennsylvania may be fitted adequately for the duties of manhood and womanhood. The future of this Commonwealth is dependent upon the childhood of this community, what is it able to do. The result of this will be it would save a vast amount of time in the aggregate by putting the man to doing one task instead of having that man do half a dozen different tasks during the day. Why is the factory labor so hard upon the minor under sixteen? It is the constant concentration of the mind upon a single operation for a long time that deadens the faculties and he is not able to do anything else if he be only the average workman, and then this continuous monotonous work impairs the faculty.

Now this bill seeks to deprive the boys and girls who are not matured in intellect and body from the damaging effects of this monotony. Now I am the last person who would give anything but honor to the manufacturers of Pennsylvania. This great State of ours has the most abundant resources of any state in the Union. Our agricultural products would be the pride of any empire, and owing to the enterprise, industry, skill and perserverance of our manufacturers, our manufactured products in celebrity equal the reputation of the products of our fields and our mines. The factory system has been a wonderful benefit to mankind. It produces great numbers of useful articles at a very cheap cost so that the home of every day laborer to-day is more attractive and more comfortatble in many respects than the palaces of the kings in middle ages. The manufacturers have brought this about. They and their employes gather great sums of money that formerly could only be obtained by ability and aristocracy and they benefit to the utmost degree any community in which they reside. But the chief aim and product of a state is not the creation of wealth, is not the spirit of material comfort; the chief and principal aim of every state is to produce the highest possible type of manhood and womanhood, and this bill aims at that particular thing. It hopes by taking care of the children under sixteen to see to it that he and she are kept from matters of detriment of environment and toil, and not given tasks of men and women until they are fitted in physique, intelligence and able to perform those tasks.

Mr. C. A. SNYDER. Mr. President, I ask the pardon of the Senators for their indulgence. One of the amendments, I think it is the twenty-third, strikes out the penal clause against the manufacturer who may unwittingly employ a minor, boy or girl under sixteen years of age. If this bill is adopted, under that section, if a factory inspector should go into the factory and find a boy or girl employed under sixteen, although the employer had a certificate certified to by the proper and required authority as indicated in the section, that employer for having that boy or girl under sixteen years of age in his employ is per se, without any further proof, liable to arrest and conviction, because the act does not give him a defense, liable to conviction and fine and imprisonment. This section says that a man that will employ a girl or boy under sixteen years of age, it matters not how, if he is prosecuted by the Department of Labor, and we know not in the future what may sway the minds of men, if a manufacturer is prosecuted under that section he will have to be convicted and the court must fine him and must sentence him to prison. I for one cannot stand for that kind of impugning of the manufacturers of Pennsylvania. In answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, I am rather at a loss to understand his position. Several weeks ago in the freshness of this Senate the gentleman arose from his seat and with a gallantry like a sixteenth century cavalier stood up and asked the Senate to vote for a bill that would permit the damsel of the family, whether she was sixteen or fourteen or ten at all hours, to wait upon him and his lady and serve them with ice cream. Now he changes his position. The answer is why. Then he talks about the strength and vigor of the young man of sixteen, if he knows history, if he has read the history of Napoleon, who covered every inch of ground from Madrid to Moscow with a soldiery compose of boys only sixteen years of age, and who made every king of Europe tremble on his throne, and but for the icy cold of Russia, he would have been unconquered. Yet he says it enervates the boys and makes them anemic. Let me tell you the boys who are anemic are the boys who would be messengers at twenty-one years of age, and the boys who would carry your messages after twelve o'clock are these sisters. That is the kind of man you are raising under this bill. Talk to me about men of vigor and strength. They are the men in the workshop, mine, farm and every place where muscle or brawn can be used. It is no argument to say that a boy will be destroyed because he works. Rather let me say to you it will be impossible under this act to get young boys to ever join the army under sixteen years of age, because there will not be any recruiting officer let any sister into company with able bodied men, and that is the kind of men you are going to get under this bill, and you may as well prepare for it now under this kind of bill. This may not be a serious reply, but I think it is on a level with the gentlemen's argument.

Mr. WARNER. Mr. President, I feel that I would not be doing justice to those I represent if I would not make some remarks on this impending bill. I represent a district that is mostly industrial that is on the borders of New Jersey. We have a great many textile manufacturers, silk mills, glass industries, shoe factories and anthracite coal mines. Therefore, this bill means a great deal to my district. I am safe in saying that it would throw eight hundred children out of employment at once if this bill would pass, and it would make a great many people dependent upon charity for their support. In my own village there are one hundred and thirty-five people who would be thrown out of employment as soon as this bill passed. In the City of Hazleton, which is not in my district, but within a few miles of my home, one factory would suspend two hundred and fifty-seven people at once. In Hazleton to-day there is not nearly enough accommodations for their school children. They have what they call double sessions. In our own town children of six years are only permitted to go to school two hours a day, and our taxes in our town are 26 mills to support the schools, the limit of taxation. Therefore, I would like to know by what means possible we could increase our school facilities to accommodate the children who are expected to take advantage of this law. We hear a great deal about schooling. Gentlemen, when you come to consider, we know the histories of all great men. The accomplishments of men who have revolutionized and made the progress of this country, were people that did not attend college, and most of them had no school advantages after they were ten years of age. Washington did not go in a school-house after he was ten years old, and we know what he accomplished His brother was sent through the colleges of the old world. You never heard from him. Jackson, we know the history of him, you all know the "Rail-splitter" Abraham Lincoln. You know the history of him You know the history of James A. Garfield, the "Towpath Mule Driver" Then you go to Andrew Carnegie, Thomas A. Edison, John Rockefellar, Commodore Vanderbilt John Wannamaker, and lots of others. They were people that were educated in the little red school houses. They never had the advantage of a college education. Gentlemen, when we look over this Senate we find that four-fifths of the Senators of this body did not have educational advantages after they were fifteen years old. As far as my own experience is concerned, I was raised on a farm, which you all can see if you look at me, and had no school advantages after I was fifteen years old. I had three months schooling a year only. I worked on the farm. I had blue denim trousers, brogan shoes and a flannel shirt and a half brim straw hat. I went to the town to get plough shares. There the town boys of fourteen years and sixteen years in there village were lying under the shade trees, ridiculing me and poking their fingers at me. I hated to go to town. To-day, I am running an automobile those people who had those clothes are wearing clothes similar to what I had when I was a boy. Now friends, education procured by self-effort is a blessing. Education forced, frequently is a curse, because education can only be appreciated by self-effort after a boy works and realizes the hardship of toil. Then he gets a taste for education, and then only, education will do him the good that education is intended for. Education to make a drone which is the intention of to-day, is the curse of our people. Gentlemen, we are getting too many drones in this country. Who do I mean by drones? The people who want to live at the expense of the producer. We find that the men who are the children that get an education that is of value procured it after they were virtually done working. I believe that a law ought to be passed to compel every child first in a certain period, and no time is better than about the age of sixteen, to know what toil is in order to sympathize with the man that does toil, because unless he does toil he can never appreciate what it means to toil and work. Now, friends, I don't like to burden you with this talk there has been a great deal said upon this question, and I hope that this Senate which is the representative of the people will exercise their right without domination of any one. I am sent here by the people of my district to represent them, and as such I represent, and what I believe is to the benefit of my constituents, and I believe that if every Senators was to do the same, this bill would go down to defeat. We call it propressive legislation. It is retrogressive.

Now, friends, you hear a great deal of the manufacturer. We hear the manufacturer indicted as though he was an undesirable necessity. When you consider that every lawyer, every doctor, every merchant, even the farm itself depends upon the success of the manufacturer, why should we not encourage them instead of discourage them. Gentlemen, this Commonwealth has nearly all our towns and cities paid bonus for manufacturers to come into this State from the City of New York, Patterson, and the State of New Jersey, to establish industries. You are making legislation for a bonus to leave the state, which is coming sure as the world, because no man in New Jersey or New York will come to establish industries in the State of Pennsylvania if these laws are enacted. I have heard in this body resolutions passed condemning the democratic administration for enacting legislation against business. The legislation that this Legislature is enacting does more against business than all the democratic legislation in Washington has done against this state. Friends, to-day you get into a conversation with the manufacturer. His answer is "If I would only have my money out of manufactures." If you ask the man with money to contribute towards an industry he will say "No, I will keep my money in my pockets because legislation is detrimental to the manufacturing industries of the state. Gentlemen, the time is coming when you will be glad to change your vote on legislation if you want prosperity. Prosperity wants a fair chance, and unless you give it, you wont get it, and consequently, you know who will suffer,—those who can least afford it. I have said enough. I hope you will do your duty, and vote without dictation of anyone as to how you should vote here, which is your prerogative.

Mr. JENKINS. Mr. President, gentlemen, I hesitate about taking up your time again, but the thrusts of the eloquent gentleman from Schuylkill County seems to be telling, and so well directed that I think it calls upon me to say something in defense. It is entirely true that I advocated the labor of minors in a restaurant operated by the owner when the minor was the daughter of the owner. The trouble with my friend from Schuylkill County and the men who stand with him in attacking this bill lies in the fact that they are unable to discriminate between the kinds of labor and the persons who do labor. They are blind to the differences between adults and minors, to the differences between general labor, factory labor, labor upon the farm, domestic labor, and labor in the hospitals. Indeed, they have attacked this very bill, and also the Act of 1913 to regulate the employment of females, because both that Act and this bill exempt from its provisions the labor of domestic servants and of the boy from the farm. Now, the monotony of the labor in a manufactory is altogether different from the freedom of life and labor that attaches to a domestic servant. She has the variety that is the spice of life. She is a member of a household, and goes through the weekly routine of the household. The ladies here know that there is a washing day, an ironing day, a baking day, a sweeping day, and so on and in every one of these days when different tasks are done, the much abused girl has a multitude of duties and she performs them all over the house, upstairs, downstairs and in my ladies' chamber, and there is nothing comparable whatever to her duties and to the duties of the girl of the same age who sits or stands ten hours a day at a machine doing one thing continuously, and no other thing day in and day out. Now it is the same thing with the boy on the farm. He is more removed than ever from the monotony and drudgery of the boy in the factory. The boy on the farm works long hours. Now, we are not to get confused in this matter. It is not a question of who works the longer hours or earns the most money. It is the question of the effect of the work upon the health of the minor, and I think the variety of the work done by these other people is beneficial to their health, while the monotony of the factory works injury to the minor. The boy on the farm gets up before sun light and continues to work until after sunset. He goes to his work and has the care and attention of the cattle and sheep, and has as he moves around every gentle influence of nature with him—the stream, the sunshine, the hills, the forests, the storms, all these are in his day's work and part of it. Even the little urchin, whose daily toil it is to feed the poultry, he partakes so much of the responsibility of the farm labor that he is like a little monarch in his realm, scattering abundantly from a smiling hand.

Now it is the farm boys who work these long hours who are the vigor and the health of the State. If they can get no work in the neighborhood where they live they go to the large cities, and the stamina, morality and backbone in the cities would die out in a generation if not recuperated and rejuvenated by this young blood from the country, whose circulation has never been lowered or lessened or affected by factory labor. And then this pamphlet, this pamphlet that the manufacturers put out also finds fault with the physicians who say that sixteen is the proper age for minors to begin to labor, because they say the physicians work the nurses in the hospital a whole day—not a whole day, but very long hours. I am not opposed to this bill because they say that sixteen is the age at which a boy may do a man's work, but now as for nurses, how can my friends conceive that their work is mechanical work. Their environment is humane. These ministering angels have all the aspirations and inspirations of professional work, and their task or drudgery alters with the altering stage of the disease of their patients, and they take care of all ages and both sexes, and there is nothing whatever in their lives to compare with the life of a fifteen year old girl who stands for ten hours feeding buttons to a machine that puts eyes in the buttons, or feeding sheets to a machine to be riveted, or spends the same time picking up broken threads at the loom or spindle in any factory as they sometimes do or that stands in any factory occupied day after day ten hours a day doing one thing in one spot on one machine. Now I think there is a distinction that is very clear, and I think you will find a big difference between general labor on the one side, and domestic labor and labor of the nurses and of the farm, and any other kind of labor compared with the monotony of factory labor on the other. That is the distinction I wish to express.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I am not desirous of making reply to the distinguished Senator from Schuylkill, but I desire to congratulate him upon the magnificient presentation of his case. He has pictured a scene that is about to be enacted in this Senate and what is to take place in the great State of Pennsylvania during the next two years as one almost bewildering in its effect, and the condition that has stirred up the Senators from the respective counties they represent. I have a different view of this present bill that is now before the Senate, because I have sufficient confidence in the intelligence, integrity and qualifications of the manufacturers of the State of Pennsylvania that they, as in other States, will adjust themselves to the conditions of this bill without the hair of one child being hurt or disturbed in its employment. That being the case, if it should happen that in the period of the eighteen months that will transpire of elapse between these sessions that if this terrible calamity that the Senator from Schuylkill has pictured so ably to the Senate there is nobody in the United States that will more readily accede as has been the custom of this Senate for the past eleven years that I have been a member of it to correct and rectify these conditions. The conditions as existing to-day in the factories as told to me by one of the most prominent manufacturers of Philadelphia, that these children, between fourteen and sixteen years, even under conditions as they now exist, at the 58 hours they are working are taking three or four hours rambling around the factory and having conversation that is sort of an amusement for young children of that age, so that if that is the case, I believe that these manufacturers, and there is only one-half hour difference between the bill as desired by the Manufacturers' Association and the bill that the Senate is about to consider, that the manufacturers themselves, within ninety days after this bill is a law, will adjust themselves to the conditions so that the poverty such as has been pictured is about to take place will absolutely be forgotten. Now, as to the State of Pennsylvania why should not we, if competiting States as represented by Massachusetts, Ohio, New York and Illinois and Indiana, because that was the main argument for the past five years as to why Pennsylvania should not enact or amend the child labor law, because of competition from these States. If they have passed into the era of the fortyeight hours, or fifty-one hours week, why should not Pennsylvania experiment at least for two years and see what beneficial results are going to accrue from it. The question of the inspector coming into a place and finding a child there that is possibly there with a certificate at sixteen years working, and these dire results by imprisonment and fine, why in the State of New York the regulations enacted by the House and Senate of the State of New York provide that in the employment of grown persons over 21 years of age working over eight hours even to the highest type of mechanic you are not only penalized but you forfeit your contract, no matter whether that contract is one hundred dollars or four million dollars, but I have faith and confidence in the integrity of the Executive now sitting at Harrisburg, and with the employees who are under him, that there will be a fair and impartial interpretation of this law, and that every manufacturer that would be found to have one, two or a half-dozen girls or boys under the age of sixteen working in that shop, would have an opportunity to make a proper explanation, and the explanation be received and acted upon in a fair and impartial manner.

Now as to the educational features, Senator Warner has stated that there is too much education. I agree with him, but this is education so far as I can interpret it that the children in and about the mill and factory shall have a certain number of hours every week to be more proficient in the particular kind of work they are engaged in, and surely if they are fifteen years of age engaged in whatever trade they have in the factories, just as a bricklayer, taking a young boy fourteen years of age and he is seeing continually for a period of a year or 18 months a demonstration from the superintendent or the efficient head of the factory the particular parts of the work that the child is engaged in, and is going to see that the child is going to be more efficient in the performance of that duty as he grows up to 15, 16, 17 or 18 years of age. That is the kind of education. If we had more of it in this Commonwealth and this country, this is the kind of education that would make better men and better women of this population, because that is what we are looking to-day that young America or the children of our generation who are being taught that the only education necessary is that they go through the Grammar School, then through the High School and graduate, walk the streets and become a gentleman. We have the vocational schools under the provisions of this bill, but we have our trade school in Philadelphia, and what we call a manual training school, and from these schools are educated the young men to-day taking their places as carpenters, brick-layers, as mechanics of all kind, and making efficient, trustworthy men, and I trust that the Senate while there are some features of this bill in the main that I would not subscribe to in its entirety, I think that under the pledge that the Republican Party in the State of Pennsylvania has given to the voters, we are entitled to enact a Child Labor Bill and I think this bill after the due consideration that has been given it by both sides, aided by him who has backed it, has acted wisely, fairly and justly in meeting the contention for forty-eight hours and those who are desirous of retaining the fifty-four hours, and met them on a middle ground so that in the next eighteen months, with the proper supervision that he has declared he will exercise over conditions, that if all this condition that is about to befall humanity I do not think there will be anybody in this Senate, that is here at the time, that will be more ready to correct and rectify the mistakes than will be the gentleman who is sitting in the Executive Chamber.

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, with these amendments as offered now, we are compelled to take our choice between the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association's idea of a Child Labor Law, and that of the Governor and others who have made a great study of this question. The bill as presented, what we call the Cox Bill, is the Governor's bill, and backed by the Pennsylvania Child Labor Association. These amendments are backed up by the Manufacturers' Association. I understand that there are nine or ten manufacturers in this Senate and I think that they will agree with me that the Manufacturers' Association has studied the question more with an idea of the profit of that business than any consideration for labor. For that reason labor is compelled to either get their protection from Unions or else through legislation. And for that reason we cannot depend upon the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association's amendments to be the right kind of amendments. We have a pamphlet gotten up by the manufacturers's Association in which is Mr. Grundy's argument, which I have read very carefully, and it is a splendid argument for the manufacturers. Mr. Grundy appears to be the proper man in the proper place, but as carefully as I read it over, I cannot find a line of it that shows that Mr. Grundy has made one-tenth the study of child labor conditions that he has for the profit end of the manufacturers. I believe we ought to pass this bill as it is now without any amendments, not simply because it is the Governor's bill, but because the Governor has promised to place upon the statute books of this State a proper law.

Mr. C. A. SNYDER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentlemen from McKean, Mr. Hilton.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from McKean permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HILTON, Mr. President, I will.

Mr. C. A. SNYDER. Mr. President, in the alleged manufacturers' amendment, as the gentleman claims, does he know that the child would only be compelled to work forty-six hours a week, two hours less than the eight hour day.

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, how is that, again?

Mr. C. A. SNYDER. Mr. President, do you know that in the alleged amendments of the manufacturers, that the child or girl or the boy would only be compelled to work forty-four hours?

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, I wish to state this, that I have been before all the Committee meetings, and I have listened to the arguments of the Manufacturers' Association and Mr. Grundy and others, and I cannot see any difference between them and the amendment offered here tonight. I think the amendments offered here tonight are the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association amendments possibly some little changes, but not any that I can see.

Mr. C. A. SNYDER. Mr. President, I will repeat the question. Does the gentleman from McKean know that in the alleged manufacturers' amendments, and I am speaking legally in order to be properly recorded, that in that amendment a boy and girl would only be required to work forty-four hours a week.

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, I cannot tell you.

Mr. C. A. SNYDER. Mr. President, for the information of the Senator, he is required to attend one school day. Now surely, if you give six hours of that day to school purposes, three in the morning, and three in the afternoon, he cannot work, and you can't take the ten hours for that day and it is only forty-four hours.

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, I wish to state I think I made myself very clear that I would rather take the bill that was gotten up by the Governor and the Pennsylvania Child Labor Association, than that of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association, who have been watching the profits closer than the other people, and that is my object in taking the Governor's bill instead of the others. I believe the bill is gotten up more in the interests of the child.

Mr. VARE: Mr. President, I would just like to detain the Senate about two minutes, and then I am through. In answer to my colleague from Schuylkill county in relation to the prosecution clause. It remains exactly the same as under the present law, only the fine is less and the imprisonment shorter. Now the eight hour child labor law passed the House of Representatives at Washington by a unanimous vote of all the Republicans in the House, and of the Northern Democrats. I want to call the attention of the Senate to the fact that this child labor law is not only in the Republican platform, but in the Democratic platform, and I therefore ask the Senate to vote the motion down.

Mr. C. A. SNYDER: Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Vare.

The PRESIDENT: Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Vare, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr VARE: Mr. President, I will.

Mr. C. A. SNYDER: Mr. President, does the gentleman from Philadelphia claim that because it is in the Democratic platform, we ought to pass it?

Mr. VARE: Mr. President, that is one of the reasons along with all the merits that are in this bill that the Democrats ought to support it.

Mr. GRAFF: Mr. President, I am glad to hear to-night that a number of our Senators are willing to back the Governor in his reform movements. I am reminded to-night by the bill that we have before us of a speech that was made by one of our rural members at a School Directors Convention. He said that the medical inspection that they had did not go far enough. He said he spent fifteen dollars to find out that children had head lice, and then we were unwilling to spend fifteen cents to buy fish oil to kill them. The great trouble, Mr. President, is this: we have heard here to-night that the Constitution is undermined and the children are the victims, that those who work in the mills have their constitutions undermined and the victims follow. In other words the iniquities of the fathers are visited upon the children. We have scripture for this, that they are visited upon the children down to the third and fourth generations. The reason that I am glad to hear these Senators this evening speak about this subject, and they are willing to rectify it, is this. I want to say that of one hundred cases of children who come into this world handicapped in the race through life, possibly ninety-nine are handicapped through the saloon and not through the manufacturer's work, or the work of the factory, and if we are going to support this movemnet to back the Governor in his moral uplift, when the Senate convenes here two years hence I hope they will back him in all his legislation to carry out the moral uplift of the children, and we find studying the institutions, the penal and all the institutions of the State, that they are being filled not from the wrongs of the children of those who have constitutional weakness from the manufacturing establishments but from the saloons of this State.

Mr. C. A. SNYDER: Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Graff.

The PRESIDENT: Will the gentleman from Armstrong permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GRAFF: Mr. President, as it seems to be the business of the gentleman from Schuylkill, I will try to be accommodating.

Mr. C. A. SNYDER: Mr. President, are you a manufacturer?

Mr. GRAFF: Mr. President, I am.

Mr. C. A. SNYDER: Mr. President, do you employ boys and girls under sixteen years of age?

Mr. GRAFF: Mr. President, I do.

Mr. C. A. SNYDER: Mr. President, what will you do when this goes into effect in January 1916 with the boy or girl under sixteen years of age? What will they do then?

Mr GRAFF: Mr. President, I do not know.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HOKE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate go into Committee of the Whole for the purpose of special amendment.

Mr. WASBERS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The amendment was read as follows:

Amend section 4 by adding the following as an additional paragraph thereto: "The Commissioner of Labor and Industry may, on application therefor in writing, issue permits to persons engaged in the business of canning or preserving or both allowing such persons to employ minors under sixteen years of age for a greater number of hours per day than as prescribed in this act."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I hope that this amendment will not prevail. There is no more reason why the canners should have a different law from the other manufacturers and employers of child labor. It seems to me the fact that they are only employed for a short length of time is no reason why the children should be overworked five or six or ten weeks any more than they should be overworked the year round. I hope the Senate will vote this down.

Mr. HOKE. Mr. President, I have offered this amendment for this reason: The canneries of the state are subject to entirely different conditions from other manufacturers and consequently the children who are employed by them are under entirely different condition. Those employed in manufactories that work the whole year around are necessarily engaged during every working day in the year. If it be true that labor in the factory injures the children of the State, that is true of those who work the entire year around but not true of those who in the rural districts are asked to work in those canning factories for a period of from six to ten weeks. Now, these canneries must do their work at a particular time of the year. The raw material with which they work are fruits and vegetables. The raw material is prepared for them by nature in her own time and they must work on that raw material when it comes to their hands, and the consequence is, it being a perishable commodity they must manufacturer it and put it into the finished product as rapidly as possible to keep it from spoiling, and for this reason they employ the women and children in those rural communities, and they are necessarily compelled to work as many hours of the day as possible, and for this reason this amendment exempting canneries was put in the woman's labor law of 1913, and I think it is only fair that it should be put into this law. It will be noticed by the Senate that it does not entirely exempt the canneries but it enables them to go to the Commissioner of Labor and Industry, and on this certificate permitting them to work for fair compensation as is regulated by this bill.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I have listened this evening with considerable attention to the various reasons promulgated as to the whys and wherefores for their different views. I want to say on the floor of this Senate that many of the conditions and many of the clauses in the child labor bill do not appeal to me, but I feel that in this age of progress where times from day to day are changing, when conditions arise that are different than they were yesterday, where the intelligence industry and wisdom of our great men are working from day to day to better the conditions of all our places under the conditions to make Pennsylvania if possible a greater state than she has been in the years gone by, and it is making her the Utopian state regarding which we hear much, that it behooves us and other members of this Senate to give this bill a chance along the lines laid down by those who are students and who have been students and who have at last succeeded in getting through the Legislature, the House at least, the bill that meets with the demands and when that bill comes here it should at least be past by the Senate in such a form that it shall be constitutional under the law. If we are to listen to special amendments such as offered by the Senator from Franklin I am very much afraid that this will be classed as special legislation and therefore spoil the benefits of the labor and all the work of these people and of the Governor of this Commonwealth. What is sauce for one should be sauce for the other and if the manufacturers are to suffer as they say they are then the canneries and all other peoples interested in the employment of child labor should suffer along the same line. It is my thought that no man, no woman, no manufacturer, or anybody else is going to suffer by the passage of this act. They told us some forty thousand children are going to be out of employment if this act becomes a law The work must be done, labor must be hired, and if forty thousand go out of work, forty thousand unemployed go into work, so there can not be any loss and I can't see where anybody is going to lose and I feel, gentlemen, that if this act is to go on the statute books it should go on the books along the lines laid down by the Governor of this Commonwealth and the members of this Child Labor Association. Let us have a whole law, not a patched up one. Let us do nothing that may tend to render this law unconstitutional because of the fact that it may contain special legislation.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 809, entitled:

An Act fixing the salary of the Deputy Chief of the Department of Mines of this Commonwealth

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 836 (House Bill No. 1131), on third reading, entitled:

An Act reorganizing the Attorney-General's Department designating the officers and employes thereof and fixing their salaries and making an appropriation therefor to the end of the fiscal year go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 841, as follows:

An Act creating a Division of Boiler Inspection in the Department of Labor and Industry requiring and regulating the inspection of steam boilers and providing penalties for the violation thereof

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever the word "inspector" is used in this act it shall mean either a boiler inspector of the Department of Labor and Industry or an inspector of a casualty company authorized to insure boilers in this Commonwealth and that wherever the word "pressure" is used it shall mean gauge pressure in pounds per square inch

Section 2 The Commissioner of Labor and Industry shall appoint and may at pleasure remove one Chief of the Division of Boiler Inspection who shall receive an annual salary of twenty-five hundred dollars and in addition shall receive the expenses actually and necessarily incurred in the performance of his official duties which expenses shall be paid in the same manner as similar expenses of the other inspectors of the Department of Labor and Industry are paid He shall under the direction of the mechanical engineer of the Department of Labor and Industry have charge of the inspection of steam boilers in this Commonwealth and perform such other duties as the Commissioner of Labor and Industry shall direct The Commissioner of Labor and Industry shall also appoint five boiler inspectors in the Division of Boiler Inspection each of whom shall provide himself with the necessary gauges pumps and other instruments for properly conducting the business of boiler inspecting The annual salary of each of these boiler inspectors shall be eighteen hundred dollars and in addition they shall receive the expenses actually and necessarily incurred in the performance of their official duties which expenses shall be paid in the same manner as similar expenses of the other inspectors of the Department of Labor and Industry

Section 3 The owner or user of a boiler or boilers inspected by a boiler inspector of the Department of Labor and Industry shall pay to such inspector a fee of five dollars for each inspection of each boiler so inspected which fee shall be forwarded to the Commissioner of Labor and Industry who shall pay the same into the State Treasury for the use of the Commonwealth

Section 4 All steam boilers and their appurtenances except boilers under the jurisdiction of the United States Government boilers of automobile vehicles or trucks boilers of steam fire engines brought into the State for temporary use in times of emergency for the purpose of checking conflagration and boilers used solely for heating and operating under a gauge pressure not exceeding fifteen pounds per square inch and having a grate surface not exceeding four square feet shall be inspected by an inspector once each year Provided That nothing in this section shall refer to boilers in cities of the first second and third classes and in those counties for which special laws have been enacted for the inspection of steam boilers and boilers in use or connection with coal mines

Section 5 Boilers used solely for heating purposes which are exempted from annual inspection as provided in section four of this act shall be inspected by an inspector as soon as practicable after the approval of this act and such boilers shall not thereafter be subject to inspection Such boilers installed after September one one thousand nine hundred and fifteen shall be inspected when installed and shall not be subject to further inspection The inspection provided for in this section shall include a hydrostatic test of the boiler at a gauge pressure of twenty-five pounds per square inch

Section 6 Boilers used solely for heating purposes which are exempt from annual inspection as provided for in section four of this act shall be equipped with safety valve which shall be locked and sealed by the inspector so that the pressure in the boiler cannot exceed fifteen pounds per square inch and with water gauge or water glass for determining the water level in the boiler with an accurate steam gauge and the necessary check and stop valves in the feed water and condensation pipes for the proper operation of the boiler

Section 7 The Industrial Board of the Department of Labor and Industry shall adopt and may alter amend and repeal a code of boiler regulations which shall apply to all boilers in this Commonwealth and no person firm or corporation shall operate any boiler in this Commonwealth except as provided in this code of boiler regulations the Board shall further make such rules and regulations as may be necessary to adapt the requirements of this act in such a manner that their intent and purpose will be accomplished in a reasonable manner

Section 8 The Commissioner of Labor and Industry may from time to time divide the State into districts and may assign to such districts such boiler inspectors as may in his judgment appear expedient and may from time to time assign and transfer such inspectors from one district to another district and may transfer employes of the Department from other work to this Division and may transfer employes of this Division to other work as the conditions may in his opinion render such changes essential to the most economical and effective performance of the duties assigned to the Department

Section 9 Each boiler inspector of the Department of Labor and Industry shall carefully examine into the cause of all disasters and explosions occurring to boilers in the district to which he is assigned and shall fully and promptly report his findings to the Chief of the Division of Boiler Inspection.

Section 10 It shall be the duty of the inspector in making an inspection to enter each boiler that has a man-hole eleven inches by fifteen inches in size or larger He shall note carefully the material of which the boiler is constructed and if such material is corroded or pitted he shall have it drilled at the weakest point to determine its thickness and shall permit of the operation of the boiler only at such pressure as will conform to the rules contained in the code of boiler regulations as established by the Industrial Board of the Department of Labor and Industry

Section 11 If upon the inspection of any boiler the inspector finds that the boiler is in a safe working condition and that it complies in all respects to the provisions of the code of boiler regulations he shall issue to the owner or user thereof a certificate of inspection which certificate shall state the maximum pressure at which the boiler may be operated The certificate of inspection shall contain over the signature of the inspector the name of the owner or user the location the size and number of the boiler the date of inspection and a statement that such certificate shall apply for only one year from the date of inspection unless sooner withdrawn If such inspection is made by an inspector of a casualty company the certificate shall contain the name of the company All certificates of inspection shall contain such quotations from the statutes as may be deemed necessary by the Chief of the Division of Boiler Inspection The certificate of inspection shall be so placed as to be easily read in the boiler plant where the boiler is located except that the certificate of inspection of a portable boiler shall be kept on the premises and shall be exposed to view at all times

Section 12 If upon the inspection of any boiler the inspector finds that the boiler is not in a safe working condition or that it does not comply in all respects to the provisions of the code of boiler regulations he shall immediately notify the owner or user and the person in charge of the boiler and shall withdraw or withhold the certificate of inspection upon such boiler until the boiler and its fittings are made to conform with the code of boiler regulations and the owner or used of such boiler shall not operate the boiler or permit it to be operated until such certificate has been granted or restored

Section 13 Each boiler which has been inspected shall be numbered either by stamping the number on the boiler or by attaching a numbered metal tag by a seal or otherwise to the boiler or its fittings No person except an inspector shall deface or remove any such number or tag

Section 14 The owner or user of any stationary boiler herein required to be inspected who moves the same shall report to the Chief of the Division of Boiler Inspection the new location of said boiler and shall not operate the boiler until it shall be inspected in the new location The owner or user of any boiler herein required to be inspected shall immediately notify the Chief of the Division of Boiler Inspection in case any defect affecting the safety of the boiler

Section 15 Within three months after the approval of this act every person firm or corporation in this Commonwealth owning or operating any steam boiler or boilers which are herein required to be inspected shall notify the Chief of the Division of Boiler Inspection of the number type size and location of such boiler or boilers and if the boiler or boilers are insured and inspected by a causalty company the name of such company and thereafter whoever installs or intends to use any boiler other than those of which the Chief of the Division of Boiler Inspection has been notified shall notify the said Division in the manner provided for in this section before such boiler shall be operated

Section 16 Nothing in this act and no inspection or report of any inspector shall relieve the owner or user of a steam boiler of the duty of using due care himself in the inspection operation and repair of said boiler or of any liability for damages for his failure to inspect or repair or operate said boiler safely

Section 17 Whoever being the owner or operator of any steam boiler herein required to be inspected operates the same in violation of any provision of the law or of any provision of the code of boiler regulations adopted by the Industrial Board of the Department of Labor and Industry or without having the same inspected and a certificate issued therefor as provided in this act or who hinders or prevents a duly qualified inspector from entering any premises in or on which a steam boiler is situated for the purpose of inspection or who violates any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars and not more than five hundred dollars or an imprisonment in the county jail for a term not less than ten days nor more than sixty days for each and every such violation

Section 18 All acts or parts of acts inconsitent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

Section 19 Each section of this act and every part thereof is hereby declared to be an independent section or part of a section If any section sentence clause or phrase of this act shall for any reason be held unconstitutional the validity of the remaining phrases clauses sentences and sections of this act shall not be affected thereby

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. GERBERICH. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend the bill as follows:

In section 1, line 6, by inserting after the word "Industry" the words "an inspector approved by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry"; also by striking out Section 2 and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "Section 2. The inspection required in this act shall either be made by inspectors of the Department of Labor and Industry, designated by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry in which case the fees provided for in this act shall be transferred by the inspector to the Commissioner of Labor and Industry, by whom they shall be paid into the State Treasury for the use of the Commonwealth; or the inspection shall be made by inspectors approved by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry, in which case the fees provided for in this act shall be retained by the inspector as his pay for making such inspections." Also by striking out section 3 and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "Section 3. The owner or user of a boiler or boilers inspected by an inspector of the Department of Labor and Industry, or by an inspector approved by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry, shall pay to such inspector a fee of five dollars for each inspection of each boiler so inspected, which fee shall be disposed of as elsewhere provided for in this act." Also by striking out sections 5, 8 and 9 and by renumerating the following sections accordingly. Also in section 11, in line 17, by striking out the words "Chief of the Division of Boiler Inspection" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "Commissioner of Labor and Industry" Also in section 14, in lines 3, 4 and 7 and 8, by striking out the words "Chief of the Division of Boiler Inspection" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "Commissioner of Labor and Industry." Also in section 15, lines 5, 9 and 10, by striking out the words "Chief of the Division of Boiler Inspection" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "Commissioner of Labor and Industry." Also in section 4, in lines 8 and 9, by striking out the words "and having a grate surface not exceeding four square feet" Also in section 6, in line 4, by striking out the words "and sealed by the inspector"; also in lines 8 and 9 by striking out the words "check and stop" Also in section 15, in line 4, by striking out the words "which are herein required to be inspected."

The PRESIDENT. Is there objections? The Chair hears none.

The amendments were agreed to.
